

Unification Would Have Far-Reaching Effect

By DON MILLER

On June 7 of this year, North County residents will vote on a school unification proposal that, if approved, will have a far-reaching effect on the organizational structure of education in this area.

In its simplest terms, unification will mean the end of five long-established districts and the beginning of a new one — designed to provide continuity and co-ordination of the educational program from kindergarten through the twelfth grade.

The June vote will culminate a move that began seven years ago when the State Legislature drew up a so-called "master plan," calling for the unification of school districts in the state.

In essence, this plan decreed that the prime determinant of unification should be the education of students in the most effective and efficient manner.

In the North County, voters will decide the merits of a proposal that would house under one roof the Bayshore, Brisbane, Jefferson and Laguna Salada Elementary School Districts and the Jefferson High School District.

GREENWOOD

The unified district would cover an area now served by the high school entity. It would have an enrollment of more than 25,000 students.

The unification ballot will be in four parts. Three will need a simple majority and the fourth will need a two-thirds vote for passage.

Majority votes will be needed for passage of the basic unification plan, for election of seven trustees by trustee area and for the levying of a tax rate.

A two-thirds vote will be needed for passage of a provision calling for a "leveling" or assumption of all bonded indebtedness in the component districts by the new unified district.

This two-thirds vote is needed in each of the component districts, according to A. H. Glantz, director of school planning in the county schools office.

MORGAN

If the unification plan is voted down, the five school districts involved will continue to operate as before and the state will move to prepare a new proposal.

If unification gets a green light, however, the organization of a new district can be expected to proceed swiftly.

According to Glantz, as soon as the results of the election are certified, the seven elected trustees would be sworn in.

As of July 1, the new district would come into being. The first year of its existence would be spent in organization and preparation.

On July 1 of 1967, the district would officially begin its operations and the former five school districts would be dissolved.

S.S.F. Buys 21 Portable Classrooms

Trustees of the South San Francisco Unified School District Monday night approved the purchase of 21 portable classrooms. Cost is $274,745.

The classrooms, according to District Supt. Paul Nielsen, will be used to help the district in housing pupils during a transition period in which the high schools will enroll the top three grades and junior high schools will enroll grades seven through nine.

Beginning in September, schools will enroll students in three grade divisions — kindergarten through sixth, seventh through ninth and tenth through twelfth.

Dr. Nielsen said the portable classrooms will be utilized at several schools.

In other business, the district suspended — with an intention to dismiss — a Parkway School teacher who was arrested by South San Francisco police January 19 on charges of stealing public records.

The suspect, Richard Riemann, 29, a social studies teacher, was charged with taking documents dealing with his arrest and conviction on a speeding charge. His case is pending. Riemann resigned his school post shortly after his arrest. The resignation was to be effective June 17. He has been fired. (Please See Page 2, Column 3) istration to prepare a report on comparative prices and resale values of cars that do not have these features.

The administration had recommended the purchase of two cars having the extras on the basis that the autos would have a higher resale value when the district turned them back in.

At a previous meeting, trustees had criticized the extras and requested the administration to study the purchase of cars without optional items.

At Monday night's meeting, however, District Supt. Frank Greenwood upheld the previous recommendation of his staff that the two cars be equipped with optional equipment.

He objected to the autos being called "super sports models" and said they would be exactly the same as the auto the district bought for me six months ago.

Trustee Joseph Lewkowitz, a former gas station operator and auto salesman, supported the administration's stand. "The more stripped a car is, the less resale value it has," he declared.

His fellow trustees, however, disagreed.

Three More Seek Posts As Trustees

The election of seven trustees to a North County unified school board became more competitive this week.

Three trustees joined seven others in the campaign by filing their nomination papers in the county elections office.

North County residents will vote June 7 on a plan to unify the area comprised by the Jefferson Union High School District. A seven-man board would govern the district.

During the past week, papers were filed by: Ferdinand G. King of 3151 Geneva Avenue, Daly City, representing the Bayshore trustee area. He is chairman of the (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

Late Filing Rush Foreseen

The customary 11th hour stampede by candidates to file their nomination papers for county offices appeared in the office today. Deadline for filing is 5 p.m. Friday, March 25.

County Clerk John Brumling reported yesterday that of 113 persons who had taken out nomination papers, only 13 had completed and filed them in his office.

The 113 included seven candidates from the North County. Of the seven, only Supervisor Jean Fassler of Pacifica had filed her papers.

Latest to take out their papers were Broadmoor Police Chief Ray Savage who is running for sheriff against incumbent Earl (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

Coast Pair Kidnaped In Sacramento

A Pacifica couple was kidnaped and robbed last week by two youthful hitchhikers.

Michael Gallagher and his wife Kirsteen of 268 Lauren Drive told police that they picked up the pair near Sacramento as they were returning from Lake Tahoe last Wednesday night.

After the two youths were picked up one of them displayed a pistol and told Gallagher to keep driving.

They drove into Broderick, back into Sacramento and then to Discovery Park where, Gallagher said, the youths robbed his wife of $2 and took his watch.

They fled in the car which contained two cameras, bowling equipment and a pair of shoes.

The suspects, Michael Gorman, 19, Sacramento, and Robert Eakins, a sailor absent without leave from Treasure Island for the past two months, promised to leave Gallagher's car in Sacramento at a designated spot.

It was found many blocks from the location.

Ambulance Request Is Held Over Need Not Shown

Daly City councilmen Monday night withheld action on a request to allow a second ambulance service to operate within the city.

King and American Ambulance Company of San Francisco had applied for a permit, required under an ordinance adopted last year.

But that ordinance requires the applicant to show that there is a public need for the service, which, city officials said, the pending application did not. The council tabled the matter until provisions of the law are met.

Also on the agenda were several Planning Commission matters.

The council approved interiorly-lit signs for 6512 Mission Street and 151 Eighty-seventh Street, but denied a permit for a 46-foot billboard atop a building at 1 San Pedro Road.

Requests by Arthur Barbata for a rental car reservation agency at 493 Eastmoor Avenue and Fred Tautenhahn for a similar station at 2001 Junipero Serra Boulevard were also approved.

An application for permission to operate a dog grooming salon at 2396 Junipero Serra Boulevard was held over, to give councilmen time to consult with the applicants to be sure that no animal boarding is intended on the premises.

In other action, the council granted permission to Ross E. Schendel to obtain water from the California Water District, until Daly City's Ninety-second Street Assessment District is able to provide water for a car wash he intends to operate at Pierce and Sullivan Streets.

Town Meet At D.C. Council

In the early days of America, the town meeting served as a sounding board for the opinions of all the citizens.

While the problems have changed, the desire to express opinions has not.

Monday night, at the meeting of the Daly City City Council, a number of interested citizens stood up when Mayor Francis Pacelli asked for "public appearances — oral communications."

First to be heard was Mrs. Frances Gehring, of 564 Bellevue Avenue. A den mother for Cub Scout Pack 62, Troop 62, (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

WESTMOOR-OCEANA

Proposal For No Bussing Is Recommended

No Westmoor High School student should be required to attend Oceana High School, the board of trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District recommended Monday night.

The proposed policy received the unanimous assent of trustees and will be formally voted upon at a second public hearing on district school boundaries at Oceana at 7:30 next Monday night.

The recommendation, coupled with two others affecting Westmoor enrollment, came in the wake of a barrage of protests from district residents against proposals to transport students from Westmoor to Oceana.

The proposals had been advanced by a citizens' boundary study committee as a means of relieving enrollment pressure at Westmoor. The school was designed to accommodate 1,618 pupils but next year expects to enroll 2,300.

Commenting on the new recommendation, board chairman Ello Fontana declared:

"The six schools of this district belong to the people of this district... and we know now, had we sought community expression, that the report of the boundary committee could have been different."

Fontana read a statement, containing the new trustee recommendations. He said:

"Until this district's next high school opens, no Westmoor High School student shall be required, against his parents' will, to attend Oceana High School."

Fontana said the trustees also would recommend an open enrollment policy at Westmoor to permit voluntary transfer to (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

'El Portal' Is Name For Bruno School

The San Bruno Park School District Board of Trustees Monday night concurred in a recommendation from the County Board of Education to name a new school for handicapped children "El Portal Del Norte."

The school would be located on old United States Naval land near the Tanforan property. It would be the third school in the county. Others also have the "El Portal" prefix.

Coast Shows Bid Rejected

The South San Francisco Planning Commission Monday night denied an application for a use permit to West Coast Shows to place amusement rides in front of the White Front Store on El Camino Real for a period of five days.

The commission cited a fire and police report that advised the commission to deny the request on the grounds that such a use permit would cause residents of the surrounding area undue traffic problems.

In other action the commission also: Approved a request from Mrs. (Please See Page 2, Column 7)

Broadmoor Boy Chokes On Toy Ball

A four-year-old Broadmoor boy who had partially swallowed a small plastic ball was dead on arrival at Mary's Help Hospital last week, despite heroic resuscitation efforts by Broadmoor Police Officer Jack R. Gerhardt.

Deputy Coroner Clarence Maggetti said the boy, Timothy D'Amelio, was at play with his two-year-old sister, Victoria, at the family home at 880 Larchmont Drive, when the girl apparently put the ball in Timothy's mouth. He sucked it in.

Five Districts Would Be Gone

If he now holds a contract for longer than the two years, the contract period would take preference.

The significance of this is that the new unified district would retain all five present school superintendents and their assistants.

Whether the new board of trustees would select one of the five as head man for the district can only be a subject of conjecture at this time, observers point out.

However, school unifications throughout the state to date have seen more superintendents hired from without the unified area than from within, according to Glantz.

One explanation given for this is that often, a unified area will have several strong superintendents and rather than attempt to choose from among them, the new board of trustees will appoint an administrator from outside the area.

If trustees of the new North County district decided to choose one of their own, so to speak, the nod, in the opinion of unification observers, would probably go to Supt. Edward D. Morgan of the Jefferson High School District.

Morgan has been in his present post for ten years. He said he would be interested in taking on the top administrative job in the unified district.

As of July 1, he will have three years left of his present four-year contract with the high school district.

What about the other superintendents?

Frank Greenwood said he would be interested in the top post but added:

"I would assume that all of the superintendents in the area would be interested in the job. It would be a professional advancement for all of us. I would be very happy to work with the district in any way they would see fit."

Greenwood joined Jefferson

Elementary last year. He was appointed to succeed Richard Foster and was given a four-year contract.

In Laguna Salada, Supt. Fred Lucas said he would not be interested in the top job but added that he would want to serve the district in another capacity.

Lucas has been Laguna Salada's superintendent for the past 11 years. He will have three years left on his contract July 1.

In the Bayshore School District, Supt. Natalie Lipman also indicated she was not interested in the new top job. She added, however, that she would expect to be reassigned. She has two years left on her present contract with Bayshore.

She is the senior superintendent in the North County, having served the Bayshore district for 21 years.

The fifth superintendent, Robert Lloyd of Brisbane, suggested that it was too early for a decision but intimated he would not seek the head job of the unified district.

Like the others, however, he said he wanted to remain in the area and would want a position with the new district. Lloyd has been with Brisbane since 1960 and is completing the first year of a four-year contract.

called the options "luxurious." And he added sardonically: "Mr. Greenwood has convinced me we should buy a Volkswagen."

Trustee Peter Galiano said trustees should be provided with comparable figures on resale values of different makes and models of cars.

"Mr. Chairman, it seems we are groping in the dark," he said. "We need comparable figures. I think we're all just guessing."

In reply to a suggestion by Douglas that the optional items be deleted from the auto specifications, Greenwood said that the tinted windshields should be retained as a safety factor.

Countered Douglas: "I think they're a safety hazard, particularly in fog."

In another lengthy discussion, the board debated the propriety of asking the federal government for more funds under a grant program than the district needed.

The administration had requested that an application be approved for $80,000 in National Defense Education Association funds for the 1966-67 school year.

After administration officials pointed out that in past years the district's application had been cut two-thirds and that it is the custom of districts to ask for more than what they expect to receive, Trustee George Perry exclaimed:

"If this was the attitude of every taxing entity in the United States, then heaven help us."

Commented Noonan: "As a school board, I think we have an image to the public and to youngsters and to deliberately monkey with our figures is a poor example. It's no excuse that other districts do it."

Greenwood, however, insisted that the district could support its application for $80,000, half of which the district would be required to provide.

Trustees then voted to direct the administration to apply for those funds for which need could be demonstrated.

In other business, the board approved a summer school program that will begin June 27 and end five weeks later, July 29.

Each summer school day would begin at 8:30 a.m. and end at 12:30 p.m. and students would be permitted to attend any or all of each of the four hours of classes.

Mrs. Gehring asked the council to look into the possibility of providing supervised summer recreation at Crocker, Pershing and George Washington Elementary Schools.

"There are several hundred small children in this area who need supervised play facilities," she told the council.

City Manager Edward Frank said he would investigate and make a report on the availability of funds for such a program.

Next in line was a succession of residents of Longview Drive, all upset about rumors that recently installed safety measures on their street might be changed.

They were assured that no changes would be made without a thorough study, and were asked to attend a council study session next Monday evening.

Mrs. Charles Fifer presented councilmen with petitions she said had been assigned by all but two of the residents of MacDonald Avenue, favoring planting in the street's center strip.

On behalf of the 64 signers, she pointed out that the federal government is currently conducting a beautification program.

Mayor Paccelli thanked her, accepted the petitions, and said that the council will schedule the subject for a future meeting.

In other business, trustees discussed with parents the district's legal liability during traditional post-graduation night programs.

The board has approved the use of school buildings for this year's graduation night programs.

Trustees approved the summer school program for this year. School will run from June 27 to August 5 for elementary students and from June 27 to August 12 for high school students.

Oceana, with transportation provided, and the rental and installation of portable classrooms if necessary, to relieve overcrowding at Westmoor.

Lawrence Freiberg, vice-chairman of the Boundary Study Committee, objected to the recommendations.

"The corridors are so crowded at Westmoor now," he stated, "extra time must be allowed to reach classes. I think your recommendations are educationally unsound. The library, cafeteria and corridors will still be crowded."

Freiberg also expressed dismay at what he said was a negation of the work of the boundary committee — 896 hours of study and deliberation.

Earlier in the evening, the Board had approved a $20,000 renovation request by Westmoor High School Principal Glenn South.

South described plans that would help to "more reasonably house the students we now have at Westmoor."

The renovations would provide a conference room, additional facilities for counselors, and expansion of library facilities. Two large classrooms would also be divided in half to replace two temporary classrooms and Room 19 will be partitioned.

District Superintendent Edward Morgan described the changes as "an answer to some of the boundary problems" and said the work would be started in June with the school doing its own contracting.

Taxes, Bonds Cloud Unity Vote

By DON MILLER

PERHAPS NO other factors in school unification have proven to be as complicated or confusing as assessed valuation, taxes and bonded indebtedness.

It can also be said that these factors have created a good share of the controversy that has existed over the past four years in discussions over a plan to unify North County schools.

North County residents will vote in June on a plan that calls for unifying the area comprising the Jefferson High School District. The plan's proponents say it is a proposal that will best combine the economic resources — assessed valuation — of the school districts involved.

A proposal to split the high school district was twice rejected by the state board of education — both on the basis that high school districts should be divided except in unusual cases and on the basis that one-half of the split district (Laguna Salada) would wind up with too low an economic base.

THE JUNE ballot will have two proposals affecting the financial posture of the unified district.

One would set the tax rate for the district and needs a simple majority to pass. The other would authorize the district to assume the bonded indebtedness of all the component districts.

The second proposal needs a two-thirds vote in each of the present school districts for passage.

The unified tax rate is governed by the State Education Code. It permits a tax to be levied that would provide a revenue equal to the total revenue of the five districts if they had levied their maximum tax in the year prior to unification.

Sources close to the unification scene say the tax rate would be somewhere between $4.50 and $5 per $100 of assessed valuation.

A. H. Glantz, director of school planning in the county schoos office, said that based on present assessed valuation figures, the tax rate would be $4.47.

This would produce a total revenue for the district of $8,764,000 — compared to $9,295,900 that could be raised if all the districts this year had levied their maximum permissible tax.

Glantz explained that under the code, the new unified district board of trustees may call an election as soon as possible after the district begins business to raise the tax rate to provide sufficient income.

ASSUMING THE unified district levies a tax rate of between $4.50 and $5, this would mean a slight increase in taxes for Bayshore residents — based upon the present Bayshore school district tax of $2.13 and the high school tax of $2.32.

In Brisbane, the present combined elementary and high school tax is $4.88. So whether Brisbane residents would pay more or less would depend upon where between the $4.50 and $5 range the new unified tax would fall.

In the Jefferson and Laguna Salada Elementary School Districts, however, the new tax would be less. The combined tax in Jefferson this year is $5.81 and in Laguna-Salada, $5.75.

THE OTHER financial proposal on the June ballot, the plan to level bonded indebtedness, is considered vital by unification proponents to the success of the unified district.

In essence, the proposal calls for the new district to assume the bonded indebtedness of all the elementary districts.

The bonds of the high school district would automatically be assumed.

If voters approve the leveling of the elementary bonds, the district would almost qualify for the state aid program, enabling it to borrow funds from the state for its building program — as is the case at present with four of the school districts that would be combined.

To be eligible for state aid, a unified district must be bonded up to 10 per cent of its assessed valuation.

If the unified district assumed the bonds of the four elementary districts in addition to those of the high school district, it would be bonded almost up to the 10 per cent.

The unified district then would sell the needed bonds to qualify for the state aid program.

IN THE EVENT voters turn down the proposal for leveling the bonds, each of the four elementary districts (and their tax-club calls for campaign help

Rene Isler, fund-raising campaign manager for the Pacific Boys' Club, is asking for volunteers at new campaign headquarters at 35 West Manor Drive in Pacific Manor.

Office help is needed, Isler said, and added that any aid in typing, telephoning or clerical work would be welcome. The office telephone is 359-1222.

THIEF GRABS Woman's Purse

Molly Davis of 608 St. Francis Boulevard, Daly City, reported to police yesterday that a thief had grabbed her purse, containing $37 and miscellaneous papers, while she was in the parking lot of the Skyline Plaza Shopping Center in Daly City.

She described the purse-snatcher as between 18 and 23 years old with brown horn-rimmed glasses.

Second Hearing Set on Report

The second of two public hearings on a controversial report prepared by a citizens' boundary study committee will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the cafeteria of Oceana High School.

The committee has recommended to trustees of the Jefferson High School District that students be transported from Westmoor to Oceana to relieve crowding at Westmoor.

This could mean an increase in the combined high school elementary tax rate of 40 cents for residents of the component districts.

Because of the two-thirds vote needed in each of the four elementary districts to level the bonds, Glantz termed the vote "extremely critical."

He recalled the unification of the Cabrillo Unified School District last year in which 32 votes in the tiny Tunis Elementary District defeated the proposal to level bonds.

The district subsequently conducted an educational campaign in which it pointed out to Tunis residents that they would be saddled for an additional 80 cents on the tax rate if bonds weren't leveled.

Another election was held, Glantz said, and this time the proposal to level the bonds passed by the margin of one absentee vote.

Officers Busy At Westmoor

Plans for graduation and "Spirit Week" activities will occupy the time of Westmoor High School's newly elected Class of '66 officers during this semester.

John Lavette, who transferred last year from Del Norte, was elected senior class president.

The new vice president is Reggie Baumgardner, last semester's student body vice president. Reggie is also a member of Boys' Block W and has been a football player for four years.

Kathy Jones, the lead in last year's drama production "The Pajama Game," and the coming "Finian's Rainbow," was elected secretary.

Bus Proposal Meeting Set

A citizens' group will discuss a proposal to transport some Westmoor High School students to Oceana High School at a meeting at 8 p.m. Friday in the multi-use room of Abraham Lincoln School.

The proposal would affect students who live in the St. Francis Heights, Westlake Knolls and Westlake Terrace subdivisions of Daly City.

A steering committee will make a report on facts that have been gathered on the proposal, according to Mrs. Esther MacRannels of 1370 Southgate Avenue, spokesman for the group.

Kenneth Schneider will act as chairman of the meeting. All interested citizens are invited to attend.

STUDY COMMITTEE

Boards Urged To Conserve Moneys

School boards in the county were asked last week to conserve finances and not build monuments in their districts before the election on unification.

"The pre-election period is not a time for the boards to build monuments with their undistributed reserve, nor should the board of the new district be burdened with irresponsible financial commitments or incompetent personnel," warned a report of a unification study committee of the County School Boards Association.

The committee's 17-page report was presented to the association at a dinner meeting in the San Mateo Elks Club Thursday night. It was cautiously optimistic while detailing the benefits and problems of unification of three high school districts — Jefferson, San Mateo and Sequoia — which is on the ballot in the June 7 primary election.

The report pleaded with school boards to act with "altruism, conscience and professionalism during unification and make sure that education of the children is placed above any personal bitterness, disappointment or distrust."

Committee member William J. Platt of the Menlo Park Elementary School District urged that unification be accepted as inevitable.

"A position of saying, stop the world I want to get off, won't work," he said. "It's not the end of the world. Our neighboring districts do things well. We can work together. But it's going to demand a high order of trusteeship."

Platt warned that the shake-down problems of unification will make the board members of the new district "human sacrifices."

After the report was presented, Dr. Hiram E. Mears, president of the Menlo Park District, urged the association to pass a motion that all candidates running for the unified districts be morally obligated to support unification.

"I've heard that some candidates are running simply to destroy unification," he said.

The motion was defeated. Association President Ruth Steiner said many candidates may not approve of unification but once it is passed they will act in the interest of education and not sabotage the new districts. She said the association can't ask candidates who oppose unification to renege on their beliefs and admit they were wrong.

The lengthy report spelled out a number of problems and worries about unification.

Members of the committee are William C. Gillespie, chairman of the San Mateo Elementary School District; Ruth M. Boudinot, Laguna-Salada Elementary; David C. Carr, Burlingame Elementary; Elizabeth Cullinan, San Mateo Union High; Platt; Hale F. Porter, South San Francisco Unified; and Glenn P. Smith, San Bruno Park Elementary.

The association last week decided to set up three more committees to go further into unification.

Brunan Wins

$1,000 Grant

For Article

The 116,000 member American Federation of Teachers (AFT-CIO), has made an initial series of grants of up to $1,000 for original research in the fields of education, social and physical sciences, and labor-management relations.

One of the first grant winners is Charles Tyler, 1190 Vermont Way, San Bruno. Tyler's research subject is "Ethical Codes for Teachers."

When completed, the study will be considered for publication in both the new AFT professional journal, a quarterly which will be initiated this spring, and in an original monograph series.

Tyler is an English instructor at Capuchino High School, San Bruno, and a past president of Local 1436 of the AFT, the San Mateo Federation of Teachers. His articles have appeared in the California Journal of Secondary Education, Educational Theory, and Phi Delta Kappan. He is married and has two children.

Accrediting

Visit Made

Five-man teams from the Accrediting Commission for Secondary Schools, Western Association of Schools and Colleges, spent three days last week studying and analyzing the educational program at each of the four schools in the Jefferson High School District.

The teams worked with faculty, students, school administrators and district-level personnel in scrutinizing course offerings and classroom instruction.

A report on the studies will be presented to the board of trustees before the end of this year.

North County Deaths

Zelma Ziel, 69, former long-time resident of Sharp Park in Pacifica, died last Tuesday in Phoenix.

Survivors include her husband, William Ziel, Phoenix; a son, William J. Borwick, Phoenix; a sister, Mrs. Nellie Nengle, Rolling Hills Estates; three grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

She was a member of the Sharp Park Chapter of Order of Eastern Star, and the Grace Circle of the Presbyterian Church of Sharp Park.

Funeral services were held from Nauman & Lincoln Chapel by the Sea, Pacifica, under auspices of Order of Eastern Star. Committal prayers were conducted by the Rev. H. G. Harkins of the Sharp Park Presbyterian Church.

ELLA CHAMBERLIN
Mrs. Ella Rosina Chamberlin, 79, 273 Cypress Avenue, San Bruno, died last Tuesday at Peninsula Hospital after an illness. She was a native of New York, and a resident of this county for 38 years.

Survivors include two sons, Richard H., San Bruno, and Robert R., Los Altos; seven grandchildren, and a great-grandchild.

Private services were held from San Bruno Funeral Home. Interment was in Greenlawn Memorial Park.

SELMA ANDERSON
Mrs. Selma K. Anderson, 74, 249 San Anselmo Avenue, San Bruno, died Saturday at County General Hospital. A native of Lake County, she lived in San Bruno for 20 years.

She is survived by a daughter, Elsie Linea Boyesen, San Bruno; a brother, Albert Olson, San Francisco; a sister, Anny Olson, Sweden, and a grandchild.

Funeral services were conducted Monday from Crosby-N. Gray Chapel, Burlingame. Interment was in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

Funeral services were conducted last Wednesday at San Bruno Funeral Home for Mark Morgan, 19, of 521 Acacia Avenue, San Bruno, who was killed in action February 27 in Vietnam.

Interment was in Golden Gate National Cemetery.

JOSEPH URBANSKI
Joseph Urbanski, 76, 701 Linden Avenue, San Bruno, father of Millbrae Police Sgt. William Urbanski, died Friday at a San Francisco hospital after an illness.

He was a native of Poland, and had been a resident of the Bay Area for 27 years. He was a retired sergeant of the U.S. Army, and had also retired after 24 years as a guard with the Crocker bank.

He was a member of Hancock Masonic Lodge, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and of the Scottish Rite Bodies.

ROSEMARION HECKMAN
Mrs. Rosemarion Heckman, 12 Verano Drive, South San Francisco, died Friday at County General Hospital. A native of Nevada, she lived in the county 16 years and was a teacher in the Jefferson Elementary Schools.

Survivors are her husband, Robert E. Heckman, South San Francisco; two children, Ruth Heckman of South San Francisco and Mrs. Martha Amador of Colonial Heights, Virginia; her mother, Mrs. Rose Harris, South San Francisco, and a brother, Dr. John B. Harris, Los Angeles.

A Requiem Mass was to be said yesterday at St. Veronica's Church, South San Francisco. Interment was to be in Golden Gate National Cemetery.

JANE ANN SNAPE
Jane Ann Snape, 81, 890 South El Camino Real, San Bruno, died Thursday at a San Bruno convalescent home. She was a native of England.

Surviving is a brother, Norman Holden, England. Private funeral services were held from Crosby-N. Gray Chapel. Interment was in Woodlawn Memorial Park.

HERMAN PEDERSEN
Herman Pedersen, 76, of 38 Elm Street, San Bruno, died March 7 at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco.

A native of Denmark, he had lived in the county for 43 years. He was a member of the Warehousemen's Union, Local 6, San Francisco.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Valborg Reeves, Millbrae; three grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday at 1:30 p.m. at the Chapel of Highlands, Millbrae. Interment was in Olivet Cemetery, Colma.

Teacher Has Art Exhibit

Boyd Johnson, an instrumental music teacher with the Laguna Salada School District, is exhibiting his paintings this month at the Pacifica Library in the Sharp Park area.

Johnson shows work in all media in the retrospective show. His main work on exhibit is a large pop-art type of collage, from non-objective to landscape.

Other subject matter ranges from non-objective to landscape. Johnson studied music under Darius Milhaud, the French composer, at Mills College. He is a member of the Pacifica Art Guild.

Daly City owes a great deal to Mr. Wilson for his activity in the promotion and enactment of the Package Meat Ordinance on Sundays. It was through his efforts that this legislation was passed enabling you, Mr. and Mrs. Voter, to purchase meat for your family after 6 p.m. and on Sunday.

As the former owner of Kings Market it is my belief that he merits and deserves your support in returning him to the Daly City Council.

Tickets For Ball Readied

Members of the Widows' and Orphans' Association of the Daly City Fire Department will begin a door-to-door campaign Monday to sell tickets for the annual Firemen's Ball.

Board Backs Only 1 Plan

Trustee support was given only to the third ballot proposal in Pacifica's forthcoming April election at last week's meeting of the Laguna Salada School Board.

Proposition A, Beach Purchase, and Proposition B, Civic Center Site purchase, both bond issues, did not receive full support of the trustees.

THEFT REPORTED

Tony Volk of 412 88th Street, Daly City, reported to police last week that a tire, rim and flashlight had been stolen from his parked auto.

Colma Awards Contract For Road Paving

Colma councilmen last Wednesday night awarded a contract for repaving a section of Mission Road between El Camino Real and the railroad tracks.

Low bidder with a figure of $9,060 was Lowrie Paving Company.

The firm's bid was considerably under the $11,000 original estimate.

In another action, the council called for bids on installation of traffic signals at Olivet Memorial Parkway and Hillside Boulevard to alleviate congestion and a traffic safety hazard when funeral processions are in the area.

Also on the council's agenda was adoption of a motion officially establishing the municipal election April 12 and ordering the clerk to make all necessary preparation.

THIEVES TAKE $12

Officials of the Coca Cola Bottling Company reported to Daly City police last week that thieves had stolen $12 from a vending machine at the Bendix Laundrette at 6201 Mission Street.

House-to-House Crusade Against Cancer Readied

A need to "Tell Your Neighbor" provides the driving force behind the American Cancer Society's house-to-house Cancer Crusade, which will get underway in Daly City Friday, April 1. Heading the "Tell Your Neighbor" portion of the month-long cancer drive are these co-city chairmen:

Mrs. Max Wahl of 39 Park Manor Drive; Mrs. Louis Giusti of 9 Castillejo Drive; Mrs. John Leonard of 79 Santa Elena Avenue, and Mrs. Roy J. Tierney of 55 Castillejo.

They are recruiting volunteers to distribute educational literature and collect contributions for use in the fight against cancer.

A training session for captains in the drive was held at the Westlake Park Clubhouse.

A major purpose of the drive will be to motivate more Daly City citizens into getting regular health checkups and learning to recognize early warning signs, according to the chairmen.

Another goal will be to raise funds for the support of the American Cancer Society's year-round programs of cancer research, professional and public education and service to cancer patients.

Results Of School Said Gratifying

Jefferson Union High School District's expanded elementary education program for adults has produced gratifying results in its one semester of operation, according to supervisor Robert Gross.

The district's regular adult school program offered only high school credit prior to last fall. The elementary division started with 15 students at Jefferson last semester, and during the first week of registration at Jefferson, Oceana, George Washington in Daly City and Natalie Lipman in Brisbane, drew 50 prospective students.

"Last semester we graduated three people from the eighth grade," said Gross, "and we hope that was just a starter in what we expect to be a continuing and vital facet of our adult education program."

Gross stressed that the Jefferson, Oceana, Washington and Lipman classes are not necessarily limited to those who never finished the eighth grade, but are open to anyone who has not acquired eighth grade achievement levels.

"In other words," Gross said, "some people have been formally graduated from the eighth grade without really ever having acquired eighth grade knowledge and skills."

The courses are of a highly practical nature with heavy emphasis on reading. Arithmetic is also stressed, as is written language.

Reading is taught primarily by the traditional phonics method, enriched by structural analysis, comprehension, and context clues.

The "new math" has been brought into the arithmetic unit, which will also include graph work, scale drawing and business usage.

Written language includes handwriting, vocabulary, creative writing, letter writing, grammar, punctuation, usage, spelling, note taking and outlining.

Oral language deals with announcements, telephone usage, conversation, meeting conduct, reporting, and various social courtesies.

IF EVER a junior varsity baseball coach had the proper credentials, it's Terra Nova JV Coach Raul Saucedo.

Saucedo is in his first year at Terra Nova, but while head baseball man at Corcoran High (near Fresno) in '64, his boys won the varsity championship. They were also runnerup in '62 and '63, and went into playoffs in '63 when the original top club forfeited out because of an ineligible player.

Saucedo's official coaching assignments are football (he also assisted his present head coach, Bob Fisher, when both were at Corcoran) and basketball. He's strictly a volunteer baseball man for Tiger Coach Al Figone. He does it for the love of it.

Married and father of a 2-year-old daughter, Saucedo majored in PE and minored in math (he also teaches that subject at TN) at New Mexico Highlands College, where he also received an MA. in physical education.

NOW THAT we've told of Saucedo, we'd better—for purposes of public relations—recognize other new coaches in the area, whom we have neglected, unhappily, since last fall.

Also new at Terra Nova is Bill Belenis, who helped with the frosh-soph football and wrestling after coming to the Coastside from Acalanes High in Walnut Creek.

Holding BA's in both physical education and speech, the Cal grad spent two years in Venezuela as a Peace Corps member. At Terra Nova he teaches English besides coaching. He was recently married.

Oceana also had two new coaches in the fall: Neil Laughlin and Ted Young.

Laughlin, a speech major and PE minor, was assistant frosh-soph football coach (he played three years of varsity football for S.F. State) and teaches English, physical education, and public speaking. He got his MA in speech at Stanford.

Laughlin, who lives in Daly City with his wife and two-year-old son, is also a judo expert, and narrowly missed a spot on the U.S. judo squad in the '64 Olympics.

Young, like Saucedo, a New Mexico collegian (he majored in business and economics at Western New Mexico University), replaced former Oceana cross-country Coach Bob Bleivins. Besides PE, he also teaches typing and general business.

While in college Young participated in varsity track for four years, running the 220, 440 and quarter-mile relay. He received his MA in guidance counseling and secondary education while at Western.

IN EARLY BASKETBALL season we did a piece on Terra Nova's Jim Bresnahan calling him the potential team leader despite his junior status and the fact that he had played only lightweight basketball in his previous TN seasons.

Some thought that we had thoughtlessly snubbed Terra Nova's only starting senior, Mike Duerloo, who indeed went on to outscore Bresnahan and beat him in a couple of other statistical categories, and who also became the only Coastside basketball player to make better than honorable mention (which is what Bresnahan got) on the All-NPL team. Duerloo was named to the second squad.

But last week Bresnahan was afforded the rare honor, for a junior, of being voted most valuable by his teammates. And although we don't know it for a fact, we have a feeling Duerloo was one of the players who voted for Bresnahan, who had going for him what coaches call intangibles... which never make the box scores.

Bob Wimmer, incidentally, a teammate of Bresnahan and Duerloo, may end up one of the NPL's finest all-around athletes.

He unexpectedly grabbed a starting basketball berth this past season, and although he's said to have fine potential as a basebatter, he's turned out for track and is scoring oodles of points for Dennis Lanterman by competing in the high and low hurdles, the high jump, the pole vault, or for whatever else Lanterman needs him. And he's only a junior.

Back to basketball. We all know how good South San Francisco's Jim Henry and Greg Jones were, not to mention El Camino's Mike Ackley, who beat the former two out of the NPL scoring title. So good was the trio at scoring points, in averaging close to 20 points per game, in fact, that they all broke the previous NPL scoring record.

We mention all of this to give someone an idea of how good the rest of Northern California is, because despite all of their impressive statistics, Henry, Jones and Ackley finished thirty-sixth, fortieth and forty-first, respectively, in Northern California prep scoring. Those other guys must be supermen!!!

SCATTERED LOCAL NOTES: Several local boys are making their athletic mark at College of San Mateo. Former Jeff first sacker Jerry Sullivan is going great as a Bulldog frosh player, and Brian Cote of El Camino is not only holding down the varsity's third sack, but looks like their best hitter at this point. And tow former Terra Novans are doing fine with the track squad. Ken Gallo is expected to become a 14 foot vaulter, and half-miler Chris Cooper's regularly cracking the two-minute mark and improving... Marie Strand, who went far in the woman's division of the San Francisco City Golf tournament, is a San Bruno Girl.

TRY THIS ONE for logic. USF's Joe Ellis was voted this area's outstanding player by Look Magazine, named by the Bay Area Sports Writers as Northern California Player of the Year. But UOP's Keith Swagerty was named by WCAC coaches as that league's Most Valuable Player. Figure that one out.

WE SAID IT in October and we'll say it again. The only move possible for a Giant pennant, should Orlando Cepeda recover (and that now looks very possible) would be a Jesus Alou trade. It would unblock the Cepeda-McCovey log jam and net the Giants a top flight pitcher and/or (depending on how much they sweeten the pot) shortstop.

Healthy, Cepeda's one of the four or five best hitters in baseball, and not even Len Gabrielson should keep him out of the lineup.

THINGS WE'LL BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW (and don't care about): Connie Mack, the grand old man of the Athletics, once managed the Pittsburgh Pirates... and, Bill Robinson, who made big news in his time as a tap dancer, stage and screen actor and for his political peculiarities, still holds all world's records for running backwards... 50 yards, 6 seconds; 75, 1-5; and 100, 13 1-5.

Warriors Take Sixth in PBT

NPL Five Wins One, Loses Two

Tourney Action

South San Francisco High School, the North County's sole representative in the Peninsula Basketball Tournament, finished sixth in a field of eight teams last week, by winning one game and losing two, in the three nights of action.

Bill Purcell's five lost to San Carlos, 75-61, and to Blackford, 76-70, but crushed Buchser, 86-70.

Lincoln of San Jose won the tournament by edging by San Carlos, 59-53, Saturday night. The win was the Lions' twenty-ninth in a row and set a new all-time Peninsula record. The old mark was held by Camden at 28 in a row.

Jim Henry, the North Peninsula League's Player of the Year, was named to the all-tourney 10-man team on the final night.

Greg Jones, who broke the tournament scoring record of 67 points held by Keith Swagerty of Camden, by tallying 73 points in three nights, was left off the all-tourney team.

The Warriors lost to Blackford Saturday on the performance of the Braves' massive 6-9 center Dennis Awtry who bombed the nets for 51 points and hauled down 20 rebounds.

Awtry, who broke all scoring records for the PBT, hit on 23 of 35 from the floor and five of seven free throws in setting his marks.

South San Francisco led for nearly the entire first three periods of play but fell in the last quarter when Awtry took command.

Jones led the Warrior bid for a consolation title with 27 points. Henry netted 10 and Joe Smith 12.

Friday against Buchser the Warriors overwhelmed their smaller foe with a blistering fast-break attack that broke the game open in the last quarter.

S.S.F. outscored Buchser, 24-9, in the last stanza to win it going away.

Rams Annex NPL Relays

After piling up a record 214½ points in the North Peninsula League Track and Field Relays Friday afternoon at Oceana High School, the Westmoor Rams once again find themselves the overwhelming favorites for the upcoming NPL season.

Bob Lotti's crew dominated both the varsity, B and C divisions in recording their new mark, winning first place in 10 of 11 varsity events. The only one they didn't win was the 280 high hurdle relay, in which they placed third.

The mighty Rams' closest competition in the varsity events came from South San Francisco, who managed 34 points.

tively. Larry Alterlind chipped in with 15 points and played his usual good floor game.

Thursday the Warriors were swamped by rugged San Carlos, a team that came within a whisker of getting by Lincoln for the crown.

The Dons, who took advantage of some poor ball-handling and poor percentage shooting by the Warriors, ran out to a quick 37-23 lead at the half and coasted in with the victory.

Four South S.F. players and five members of the San Carlos club hit for double figures in the run-and-shoot contest that featured a multitude of ball-control mistakes by both teams.

Purcell got good work from Ron Beall against San Carlos and reserve guard Kevin Pickett in all three tilts.

Joe Smith turned in his usual steady job on the boards and ended with 23 points in the three games.

Guard John Moro, who had his troubles from the field, contributed his share as did reserve front-liner Alex Smith.

South San Francisco set a number of team records in the tournament; among them were: Total team field goals for one game—34 (subsequently broken by Lincoln).

Total team points for one game—86 (subsequently broken by Lincoln).

Total team points allowed in three games—221.

Total team points scored in three games—217 (subsequently broken by Lincoln).

The tournament ended South San Francisco's season with a mark of 19-4 against high school competition.

AS THE MONDAY TRAVEL LEAGUE visited Westlake it appeared that Don Stevens would become a member of the exclusive Westlake 700 Club, until he missed in the last frame of the third game.

Don started with a 218 game, followed it with 211 and closed with a great 265, despite leaving an open in the last frame. An average of 178 didn't keep Don from helping his California Trophy team to a big 1018 game.

Marilyn De La Pena and Mercedes Johnson tied for high series with 560 in the Ladies 850 Scratch League, Mercedes shooting high game of 223 beating Marilyn by 32 pins.

The Golden Gate Handicap League produced a big 611 series by Rich Clews as he rolled games of 176-216 and 209. Edy Pantira and Eunice Kull shared top honors in the Holy Rollers League Thursday morning, Edy shooting high game of 196 and Eunice high series of 488.

A 213 game and 574 series by George Schmidt were high for the week in the Dusters Handicap.

Many league bowlers are taking advantage of the free Clinic on Saturdays from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Most are finding that the instruction has helped to raise their average.

Bill Austin provided the power in the 865 Scratch League Friday night as he rolled a big 219 game and 623 series.

In the four game 510 Mixed Trio League Sunday evening, Flo Bertsch with 215-768 and Ray Navarro with 236-757 were the week's leaders.

Secretary Bonnie Greer topped the ladies in the Westlake Wedlocks as she shot a 163 game and 484 series while Irwin Penn topped the men with a big 235 game and 594 series.

LEADING THE SAN FRANCISCO STATE COLLEGE League was Jack Millward with a 192 game and 569 series. Secretary Joe Maurino led the 850 Scratch League for the week with a great 668 series on games of 253-192-223. Other high rollers were Al Yee with 234-615 and Ray Moresi with 213-600.

Mercedes Johnson led her league on two consecutive nights as she topped the Ladies Invitational League Tuesday with a 205 game and 590 series.

In the Jr. Sharpshooters, Russell Casias shot 199 and 528. In the Tanglefoots, Nancy Granucci took top scoring for the day with 200-486.

SSF Mermen Break Four Swim Marks

If there is going to be a torrid race in the North Peninsula League swimming this season, it will have to be for second place.

The South San Francisco High School Warriors had little trouble in winning the 1966 NPL Swim Relays Friday at the S.S.F. pool, scoring 66 points. Oceana was the distant runner-up with 26 points, followed by Jefferson.

The Warriors broke four meet records in recording their relay victory.

"This is a good indication that we should win the NPL swim title," said Warrior coach Cliff Sansot after the event. "Although Oceana is going to be tough," he added.

South S.F., paced by Tim Tambini, Armand Brett, Bill Muench and Ken Belli, established a new standard in the 400-yard free relay with a 3:50.4 clocking. Tambini, Dave Hall, Jerry West and Ed Ekers teamed up to set another mark in the 200-yard fly with a 1:56.2 time.

And the team of Brett, Hall, Muench and Belli shaved over 15 seconds off of the old 400-yard individual medley record with a 4:31.7 effort.

The final Warrior mark came in the 200 medley relay which saw the team of Bob MacLean, Steve Porter, Tambini and Ekers record a 1:57.0 time.

Oceana severed one record, winning the 200-yard back in 2:06.0.

South S.F. 44, Oceana 24, Jefferson 21, Terra Nova 20, El Camino 18, Westmoor 7, 200 free relay—South S.F. (Tambini, Brett, Muench and Belli), 3:50.4; El Camino, Oceana, 3:58.0; Jefferson, 4:01.0; Terra Nova, 4:05.0; Westmoor, 4:10.0. 200 medley relay—South S.F. Crestmoor Swimmers In Double Win

With John Bianchi shattering a pool record, the Crestmoor High School swim team protected its undefeated status by splashing to a double victory over South San Francisco and Terra Nova at the Falcon pool last week.

Coach John DeFelice's natators tallied 87 points, compared to South S.F.'s 62 and Terra Nova's 18. It was Crestmoor's fourth h and fifth victories against no losses this season.

Bianchi capped two events, winning the 200-yard individual medley in a record time of 2:13.8 and then taking the 100-yard back in 1:01.2. His IM time is also better than the existing Mid-Peninsula League mark.

Vic Pitts was the other double winner for the Falcons, nabbing the 200 and 400-yard free style events.

Crestmoor also won the B and C classes, with the Warriors finishing in the runnerup spot in both divisions Mike Auclair paced the class B Falcons with a double win, while Tom Kirk was a two-time winner for the hosts in the class C competition.

Cap Golfers Lose Match

The Burlingame High School golf team, led by a fine four-under-par round by Bob Fast, played the role of poor guests as they trounced the Capuchino Mustangs 15-4 at Green Hills Country Club last week.

Fast made short order of San Francisco City Junior champ Mike Ray, Cap's first man, as Ray went down to a 5-and-3 loss.

Making the turn in even par 36, the Panther ace scored birds on the par four eleventh, the thirteenth, the short fifteenth, and the sixteenth, on putts of six, four, three, and two feet. Fast teamed up with Bob Newton to also sweep the team match, 3-0. Their team score was a five-under-par 66.

The Panther victory lifted their record in league play to 1-0-1.

Tri-Cities Cage

Daly City Fives Capture Tri-Cities Hoop Crowns

Sixth Grade Tri-City Basketball Play

In the first game Daly City walloped the South City team by a score of 17-5. Daly City came right back to hand Pacifica a 15-11 defeat.

In the final sixth grade game, South City recovered from their earlier loss and edged Pacifica 13-11.

Leading scorers for the three games were: Marty Gale (SSF) 5, Bill Shaughnessy (DC) 7, and Clyde Mosher (PAC) 8.

Seventh Grade Tri-City Basketball Play

South San Francisco stole the show in the seventh grade division as they defeated Daly City (its only loss of the day) 17-13 and Pacifica 28-12.

Daly City managed to collect one victory, though, as they downed Pacifica 18-7.

Leading seventh grade scorers were: Gene Mackey (SSF) 14, Keith Hernandez (PAC) 10, and Ray Kaus (DC) 7.

Eighth grade Tri-City Basketball Play

Featuring one of its strongest eighth grade teams ever, Daly City walked off with two victories to wrap up the Tri-City crown. The hometown boys took a 25-23 decision over a strong South City club then came back to wallop Pacifica 29-4.

South City collected one victory in this division as they trounced Pacifica 19-8.

Leading eighth grade scorers were: Rich Holley (PAC) 7, Steve Becker (DC) 11, and Tim Noxon (SSF) 14.

CSM Natators Rout Merritt

The College of San Mateo swim team made a successful debut in the 1966 Golden Gate Conference swimming race last week, topping Merritt of Oakland, 76-19, at the latter's pool.

Coach Rich Donner shuffled some of his swimmers around as CSM breezed to its fourth win in as many outings.

Steve Johnson paced the locals, grabbing victories in the unusual 133 1-3 yard individual medley and the 200 yard breast.

Other highlights were Dennis Belli's 2:02 flat clocking in the 200 yard free style and Milt Taylor's 52.5 in the 100 yard free.

ORLICH IN CHARGE

All-Tourney Team Is Tough to Pick

By JOHN HORGAN

Jefferson High School basketball coach Mike Orlich has never missed a Peninsula Basketball Tournament contest.

The reason is simple: he is chairman of the tournament committee that chooses the 10-man all-PBT team at the close of the three-day affair.

It is Orlich's job, as it has been for all eight years of the event, to co-ordinate the balloting and tabulating of the individual efforts of every player who sees an appreciable amount of playing time in the tournament.

"We use one coach from each league represented in the tourney to rate the performance of each player in every game," said Mike last Friday.

The rating system is a five-pronged chart method which utilizes a five-point grading set-up.

A boy is evaluated in five categories: defensive ability, rebounding, floor play, scoring and sportsmanship.

The most a player can receive in any category is five.

The least a boy can get is a zero (this possibility, of course, has never occurred).

"Any time a boy gets a technical foul called on him (for unsportsmanlike conduct) he receives an automatic four in sportsmanship," explained the Indian's coach.

Orlich, who has been coaching high school basketball for 26 years, said that it's "amazing how the ballots can differ on a particular player."

"But," he continued, "the good ones always score high. They just stand out consistently."

Just off the top of his head ("don't mention my balding dome," warned Mike) Orlich could recall players like Mel Profit of Camden (1959), Roger Olsen of Willow Glen (1960), Craig Morton of Campbell (1961), Nate Branch of Ravenswood (1962), Kevin Hardy of St. Elizabeth's (1962), Bob Stuckey of Gilroy (1962), Keith Swagerty of Camden (1963), Dave Poulit of Bishop O'Dowd (1965) and Ralph Ogden of Lincoln (1965).

"It's hard to remember all the good ones," he said. "Every year there are so many good players it's hard to recall them all."

When the ballots are tabulated off the eight coaches' charts the results are then posted on the big board in the pavilion lobby.

A large crowd of interested spectators invariably gathers at the board to watch Orlich's crew record each player's performance.

Colts Whip Falcon Nine

El Camino High School rallied for two runs in the bottom of the third and four more in the sixth inning to defeat Cresmoor High School, 6-1, in a practice game on the Col's diamond last week.

The Falcons had taken a 1-0 lead in the top of the third when Steve Waskey walked, went to second on a passed ball and scored on Duane Jackson's hard double.

The Colts got the go-ahead runs in the bottom of the third when Jim Tyler singled, Mick Ackley doubled and a sacrifice fly by John Castellanos, in addition to an error, brought in both runners. Payl Jones and Dave Jordan combined to limit the Falcons to the single hit by Jackson.

Beauty Plan Is Readied For Skyline

A compromise plan for preserving the beauty of Skyline Boulevard, one that will "provide a scenic drive without... detracting from property owners' values," was approved by the County Planning Commission.

The commission chose the plan, which was prepared by a special blue ribbon committee, over one submitted by its own staff. The staff proposal, which stirred up a storm of protest from property owners, would have applied stricter controls over a wider area.

The proposal approved by the planners now goes to the County Board of Supervisors in the form of a recommendation. A public hearing will be held by the board before final action is taken.

Highlights of the proposal, as spelled out in the committee's report to the planners:

A scenic corridor from 1,000 to 4,000 feet wide, depending upon the topography, would be established along the 22-mile length of the highway between Half Moon Bay Road and the Santa Clara County line. Property adjoining the corridor would be encouraged to come in on a voluntary basis.

Setbacks of 50 and 100 feet would be imposed.

The zoning that existed prior to the interim zoning enacted while the Skyline study was being made would be restored. Most of the unincorporated lands are in one-acre zoning.

Architectural controls would be established and enforced by a committee of experts. Colors in the corridor would be restricted to "earthy tones." Structures would be compatible with the Skyline area and blend into and complement the natural surroundings. TV and radio antennas would be restricted. Barren areas would be landscaped. Grading would be kept to a minimum and logging would be limited. Sign controls would be established. Utility lines would be underground.

Exceptions could be made in cases of hardship.

A system of roadside parks and vista points would be built along the highway. Hiking and cycling trails would be provided.

The committee also recommended that scenic easements be acquired where possible, either through public purchase, by voluntary gift or in connection with future developments. The easements, in which owners would surrender the right to build and guarantee to keep as open space, would be from 200 to 2,000 feet wide, depending upon the nature of the property.

Pacelli And Jenkins Top Brown Drive

Gov. Edmund G. Brown has announced the appointment of former San Carlos Mayor Thomas Jenkins and Daly City Mayor Francis Pacelli as San Mateo County Co-Chairmen of the Committee to Re-Elect Governor Brown.

The Co-Chairmen, who were active in Governor Brown's re-election campaign of 1962, pledged "an all-out campaign in every San Mateo County precinct to bring the record of the Brown administration before the electorate and inform the voters of Governor Brown's 1966 platform for continued progress and prosperity throughout California."

Jenkins, who was mayor of San Carlos in 1965, is an attorney in the San Francisco law firm of Schofield, Hanson, Bridgett, Marcus and Jenkins. He is past president of the United Community Fund of San Francisco, president-elect of the American Association of Homes for the Aging, and vice chairman of the Executive Committee of the California State Bar Association.

Mayor Pacelli, who is president of Westlake Stationers in Daly City, is an active Democrat with a career of civic and political involvement. He is president of the Peninsula Chapter of the League of California Cities and has served as Northern California chairman of the Heart Fund. He is also a member of the Boy Scout Advisory Committee and the Youth Guidance Group of San Mateo County.

Mayor Pacelli, his wife Claire and their five children live at 117 Windsor Drive in Daly City.

THEFT REPORTED

Frances Mantalbo of 480 Santa Barbara Avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that an electric adding machine and four watches had been stolen. The loss was estimated at $175.

A Westlake Hoe-Down

SWING YOUR PARTNER—The mall of the Westlake Shopping Center in Daly City is turned into a country western hoedown as members of Bay Area square dance clubs perform for shoppers. The program, held Saturday, drew more than 160 square dancers from throughout the Bay Area. The Calico Cats Square Dance Club of Daly City won a coffee urn, awarded by center merchants for having the largest turnout of members at the program. Don Black is the group's caller. Other callers were Ed Ferrario and Don Shotwell. Music was provided by Jack Barbour and his Rhythm Rustlers. A crowd of shoppers estimated at more than 2,000 persons applauded the dancers.

County Vets Will Benefit Under Bill

Approximately 9,880 veterans living in San Mateo County are potentially eligible for benefits and services under the new GI Bill, Congressman J. Arthur Younger said last week.

The new bill provides education and training programs generally patterned after the GI Bills of World War II and the Korean Conflict.

The congressman pointed out that in the first year alone over 1,200 veterans in the county are expected to take advantage of the educational benefits.

This educational provision is expected to provide the veterans in the district with almost $792,000 in direct benefits during the first year.

In addition to the educational benefits, the program is expected to provide VA-guaranteed loans totaling about $3,628,000 to some 200 veterans in the first year, Younger said.

The veterans covered under this bill are also eligible for hospital benefits.

More than $40,999 is expected to be made available to applying veterans in the first year, Younger added.

All veterans are eligible for educational and guaranteed loan benefits if they served on active duty more than 180 days after Jan. 31, 1955, and were honorably discharged; or if they were discharged with less than 180 days' service because of a service-incurred disability.

Under the education and training sections, monthly payments for full-time training are $100 for veterans without dependents, $125 for veterans with one dependent, and $150 for veterans with more than one dependent.

Hooray!! The factory is finally giving us all the Toronados we can sell

HOORAY!

The last six months we could have sold one hundred more Toronado Oldsmobiles than we could get. And brother, did we ever fuss about it! Lo and behold, the factory decided to let us have oodles and oodles of Toronados. Maybe they're being nice to us for what we did in the past 6 months.

We were figured to sell approximately 50 Toronados. This would be expected for a new dealership. Instead of 50 though, we sold over a hundred brand new Regal Toronados. They couldn't believe it. It's probably the greatest success story in Oldsmobile history. And we owe every bit of it to the wonderful people in the Bay Area and surrounding areas. One gentleman visiting from Florida said he was so impressed with our dealership and the refreshing way we did business that he had to buy a Regal Olds. Thanks, Gator. We sure appreciate people who appreciate people.

But as we were saying, Regal Olds has beaucoup Toronados, plus the 442 sports job. So, it's a pleasure to at least be able to say, "Come and get 'em". They're fantastic cars.

NORTH COUNTY EDITION

A Bold Stroke For Unification

A BOLD STROKE for resolving the six-year-old controversy over the unification of school districts in the major population areas of San Mateo County has been taken by County Supt. of Schools James R. Tormey. He has called an election for June 7 at which the voters themselves will make the decision on unification proposals.

The unification proposals to be voted upon would unify the Jefferson Union High School District and the elementary school districts within its borders; the San Mateo Union High School District and the Sequoia Union High School District proposals are exactly similar. The South San Francisco district has long been unified.

It is doubtful that any public issue in the history of this county has ever been more thoroughly discussed and publicized than the school unification proposals.

The San Mateo Times, alone, has published 208 separate news stories and articles, including an "in depth" explanatory series, on the topic. It has been explored, officially and unofficially, by many committees and other interested groups.

However, to recapitulate briefly: LAWS PASSED by the legislature seek to force the unification of school districts in larger and more efficient units. Failure to unify can incur penalties in state support money.

District voters can only vote on unification plans approved by the state, the state insists that existing high school districts may not be broken up, and, finally, failure to unify will ultimately result in the state enforcing unification on its own terms.

Official committees charged with unification plans have generally failed to submit plans acceptable to the State Board of Education.

The board has therefore ordered the elections here on the basis of the high school district boundaries. Superintendent Tormey has called the elections for June 7, incidentally saving the $60,000 cost of special elections.

Many of the committee people who worked long and hard to reach what they considered to be the best unification plans are dismayed and discouraged by the state's relentless attitudes and it is almost certain that a campaign will be mounted to defeat the state's proposals.

Others believe the state proposals to be fair, more equitable, and more efficient, than the plans backed in vain by the committees.

BEFORE JUNE 7 every informed voter will need to restudy the issue as it applies to his own districts, but should do so in the knowledge that a "No" vote will not be conclusive. In the end, the state probably will secure unification on its own terms.

Almost all a "No" vote can accomplish is a protest. It will cost the district substantial funds it might have received from the state and it will only prolong a period of fruitless indecision.

The odds are stacked in favor of unification the way the state wants it. To be fair, the unification by high school districts is probably the most efficient plan, will result in less dislocation of tax and debt bases, and will retain more local control than the county-wide unification the state could compel us to accept if it ultimately so chose.

The Marquee

Tchaikovsky Film Is Set

Barbara Bladen

LEAVE IT TO JACK WARNER to enter where angels fear to tread. The place is a Russian negotiating room and then Warner ain't no angel.

In a bold move, the consequences of which won't be known for maybe another two years, Warner and Dimitri Tiomkin have entered into formal agreement with the Soviet Union to co-produce a large scale (70 millimeter) Technicolor film biography of Peter Ilyich Tchaikovsky.

The details are naturally complicated, and there's been no precedent on which to base the long-range plans. But the fact remains that the Russians will be up to their armpits in capitalistic business dealings which will surpass even the cultural exchange of the Bolshoi Ballet and Louis Armstrong.

If the picture is of the magnitude of "My Fair Lady," and it looks like it may be, the good will and artistic co-operation achieved will pave the way for unlimited possibilities on the cultural and film industry horizon.

THE NEGOTIATIONS began two years ago by Tiomkin. He talked directly with Max Vladimir Surin, general director of Mosfilm Studios who will head the production to be filmed entirely in Russia. Deputy Minister of Cinematography W. Baskakov and Sovexportfilm Chairman Alexander Davidov also participated.

Agreement states that the leading figure of Tchaikovsky will be a Russian, but the supporting cast will be American and British players.

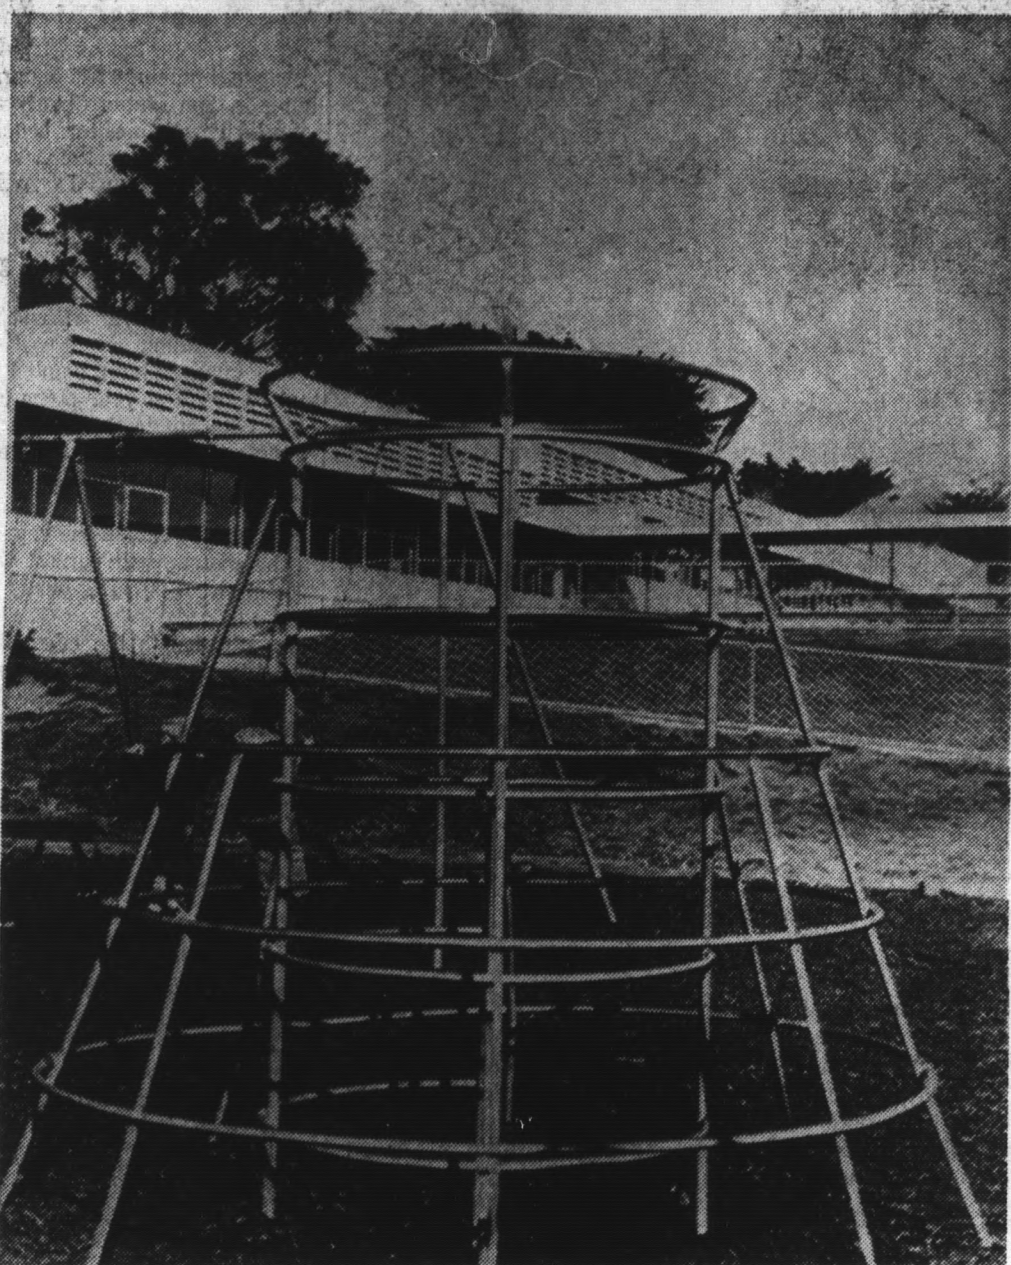

Distribution will be handled by Warners throughout the free world but the USSR will handle it in socialist countries. That covers just about all the bases.

Locations will include everywhere that the famous composer lived and worked. Musically, the film will use such Russian resources as the Moscow Symphony and the Bolshoi Ballet. A Soviet director will be in charge but as anyone knows who's attended the film festivals, the Russians lack general appeal in their film making and surely an American director will have to share the responsibility of keeping the story out of the tragedy category.

THE U.S.-SOVIET cultural agreement has expired and in the face of David Merrick's and the cast of "Hello Dolly's" disappointment over last-minute cancellation of their tour in the Soviet Union, the plan may have rough sledding.

If things go well, and if the picture is an artistic success, we can expect it on the screen by late 1967. Hearing all that gorgeous music will be pleasure enough. And the composer's colorful life is very late in getting onto film.

Garden Village School

GARDEN VILLAGE SCHOOL was designed by the noted architect, Mario J. Ciampi. Built in 1950, the school was enlarged two years later with the addition of six classrooms. Garden Village, administered by the Jefferson Elementary School District, presently houses 473 pupils from kindergarten through the sixth grade in 14 classrooms. Aileen Suber was the school's first principal. Sid Smith presently holds the position, having succeeded Carroll Martindale at the beginning of this school year.

Better Business

Improvement Racket at Peak

Lorene Beasley

THE HOME improvement rackets occur in all seasons of the year but hit their peak in the spring when itinerant repairmen and fast-talking, door-to-door salesmen take to the road. Losses from this type of activity are estimated to be around $500 million a year.

Most home improvement rackets have common characteristics: phony bargains, material misrepresented, tricky financing and guarantees that cannot be honored because the itinerant will be far away by the time his chicanery is discovered.

Homeowners should be on guard against the unknown bell ringer who works the suburban areas soliciting the work business. A typical case: The housewife opens her door to a very personable young man who shows her a business card giving his credentials as a trained arborist, well qualified to take care of her shrubbery and trees.

The address on the card is either local or a neighboring suburban city. She looks out and sees his shiny truck parked in front of her home with a local address displayed. He may even show her pictures of his wife and babies as he puts the business card back into his wallet.

HE GIVES the housewife the same old story that he had "just finished a job in the neighborhood" or "just happened to be going by and noticed a tree needed care." He offers to inspect all her trees and shrubbery without any charge and, if any work is needed, he promises her a very low price.

The housewife is completely taken in by this nice young man and allows him to inspect her trees. He finds work that must be done immediately and upon obtaining her authorization to do the work, climbs into the trees, performs various operations and presents her with a bill much larger than he had originally quoted to her. In one case, the housewife was called away while the man was at work in her trees. She came back to find a large limb had crashed through her garage roof. The "tree expert" was gone and needless to say, never came back.

Homeowners should be on guard against such self-styled "tree experts" who, with phony college diplomas, solicit tree work business. The homeowner cannot rely on a local address displayed on a sign on a truck or given by anyone who solicits tree repair work at the door as it may be fictitious or temporary.

IT IS the custom for some gypsies to roam across the United States in bands. They are well known to motel owners because of the unpaid bills they leave. Often times two or three families will crowd into a single bedroom apartment.

Some of the tree "quacks" have business cards printed as soon as they establish a permanent residence. In several cases they have subscribed to a telephone answering service.

Homeowners should not rely on references which itinerants may display from unknown people. Better Business Bureau advises the homeowner to give his tree work to a local legitimate tree firm who hires trained arborists and who qualifies by experience and training to serve the many needs of tree care.

An established local firm relies upon repeat business and works to give good service to earn it. A local firm can supply references from customers in the neighborhood or area.

THE HOMEOWNER may not only be overcharged by the itinerant quack who offers him tree service but his trees may suffer irreparable damage.

Fine shade trees throughout the country have been completely destroyed by these self-styled surgeons.

If the reliability of a local firm is unknown to any homeowner who has not previously had tree work done, phone your local Better Business Bureau.

Teen-agers Get Honors

A GOOD indication of why Daly City was looking recently at its Bayshore area as a site for future industrial development popped up last week at the monthly meeting of the directors of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

In brief, the story is tax revenue. And plenty of it. Like the kind a city derives from an industrial park area.

Chamber director and Councilman Bud Lycett, reporting on a number of talks given by developers of industrial parks at a meeting of the San Mateo County Development Association, said that officials of Cabot, Cabot and Forbes Industrial Park in South San Francisco estimated their development will provide $450,000 annually in county and city taxes in future years.

Now by any revenue standards, that's a healthy source of income to look forward to and it's no wonder that South San Francisco officials beam broadly whenever the name of Cabot, Cabot and Forbes is mentioned.

The industrial park now has a roster of 21 companies and the development someday will sprawl over some 700 acres.

Meanwhile to the north, the Crocker Industrial Park continues to grow at a healthy rate and Lycett reported that the park has 140 acres in use now and expects to add 60 more in the near future.

He also said that the developers of Foster City are considering an industrial park. So it looks like the IP movement is really getting into high gear in the county.

WHICH BRINGS us back to Daly City. From the standpoint of highways (the Bayshore Freeway) and rail transport (the Southern Pacific), the Bayshore area would appear to be ideal for attracting industry.

But as the chamber found out over there, after an investigation a few weeks ago, the name of the game is land and of land, there is none available.

Whether the development of the former Corcker estate astride San Bruno Mountain will include an industrial park is in the realm of conjecture at this point. But assuming the area will become a part of Daly City some day, then with Serramonte pretty much blocked out, the Crocker area would be Daly City's last frontier in terms of industrial park planning.

WHILE WE'RE previewing chamber business here, we'll pass on this rib-tickler delivered by director Elio Fontana who is chairman of the chamber's student awards program.

Fontana noted that his awards committee is composed of a roster of "very illustrious" gentlemen, who include their honors, North County Judges Frank Blum, Charles Becker, and Jose DeLarios, and Daly City Treasurer Joseph Lewkowitz.

In a recent letter to members of the committee, Fontana noted, his secretary had addressed the letter: "Honorable Gentlemen and Joe."

That's okay, Joe. WE KNOW being a city treasurer is an honorable profession, even if it doesn't enjoy the protocol nicety of having an "honorable" tacked onto the front of your name.

The student awards program, incidentally, may have something added this year. Director Jack Kendree allowed as how the deserving students may be the recipients of "something additional." He declined to elaborate so at this point, the guessing department is open for business.

OUR PACIFIC PARADE hat is doffed this week in the direction of the Daly City police department and, in particular, for one Willie Schumacher, the genial (we've never seen him without a grin) sergeant who last week was appointed as a deputy district attorney in the office of County District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson.

Willie made the big jump by attending the University of San Francisco Law School during the day and putting in a regular shift on the force at night.

His first reaction when he was informed of the appointment? "Well, now I'll finally be through with this night shift."

True, Willie, but without that night shift, how could you have gone to law school during the day?

We can look forward to a good serving of polished rhetoric in the courtroom, by the way, when Willie is handling a case. He is a member of the Daly City Toastmasters' Club—an organization noted for its sharp speakers.

DAVID VS. GOLIATH DEPARTMENT—The little Bayshore School District, proud of not leaning on the state for building loans, could be the undoing of a key phase of North County school unification when the whole business goes to the voters in June.

At least that's the worried concern of Al Glantz of the county schools department who notes that the proposal to have the unified component districts must get a two-thirds district assume the bonded indebtedness of all vote in each of the districts.

Since Bayshore is not bonded up to its capacity while the other districts are, Glantz feels Bayshore folks might think their district isn't getting a fair shake out of the bond assumption proposal.

What should discourage this kind of thinking, however, is a big stick the state is ready to brandish at districts that won't vote for assuming the bonds.

The stick is a rule that, in effect, will boost the school tax rate for districts that want to benefit from state aid in their building programs. The rule, it's reported has been highly persuasive in other unifications to date. Just seems nobody likes big sticks.

Second Look At Politicians

Samuel Chandler

"NOBODY WANTS to be a big oily politician writes a student from Ben Franklin School. It is time you learned, my lad that the public image of a politician is wrong. It should look like Lincoln or Washington or Jefferson or one of the Roosevelts. These men were politicians. Kennedy had no other vocation.

The governor of our state and the mayor of our city are politicians; so are the city manager and the chief of police, the fire chief, the city engineer, the city attorney, the city librarian, and others. To a certain degree even the superintendent of your school may be included.

A politician is one who is engaged in some way with the conduct of public affairs. A public official is a politician who has been elected or appointed to administer a portion of the government; a statesman is a successful public official.

Long after the elections are over and the parades have ceased, the politicians who were chosen must become statesmen. They must spend hours upon hours running the government and protecting the rights and properties of the people.

THIS THEY must do with their files open and the public looking over their shoulders. Most of the action they take is determined in open meetings with clerks making public records and with reporters hanging on every word. Often the meetings are beset by misinformed persons and by just plain crackpots.

Public officials must move within the framework of policies and constitutions prescribed in elections or by commissions and legislatures. At anytime these officials may be charged with violation of the policies or the constitution; sometimes even in the courts.

Added to this, every two or four years they must put their jobs on the line. Then their records are searched by opponents for schemes and deals that might be used to dislodge them from the office they hold.

Working in such a framework requires patience, ability, foresight and unselfish devotion. It requires an objectivity that is most difficult to achieve. Politicians, as a rule, do not hold grudges. They fight hard for the policies that they deem to be in the public interest. When they win they work hard to implement those policies. When they lose they gather their forces to fight again.

I SUBMIT that the progress our country has made is living proof of the integrity and greatness of its politicians, in spite of the image that a few bosses and many cartoonists have created.

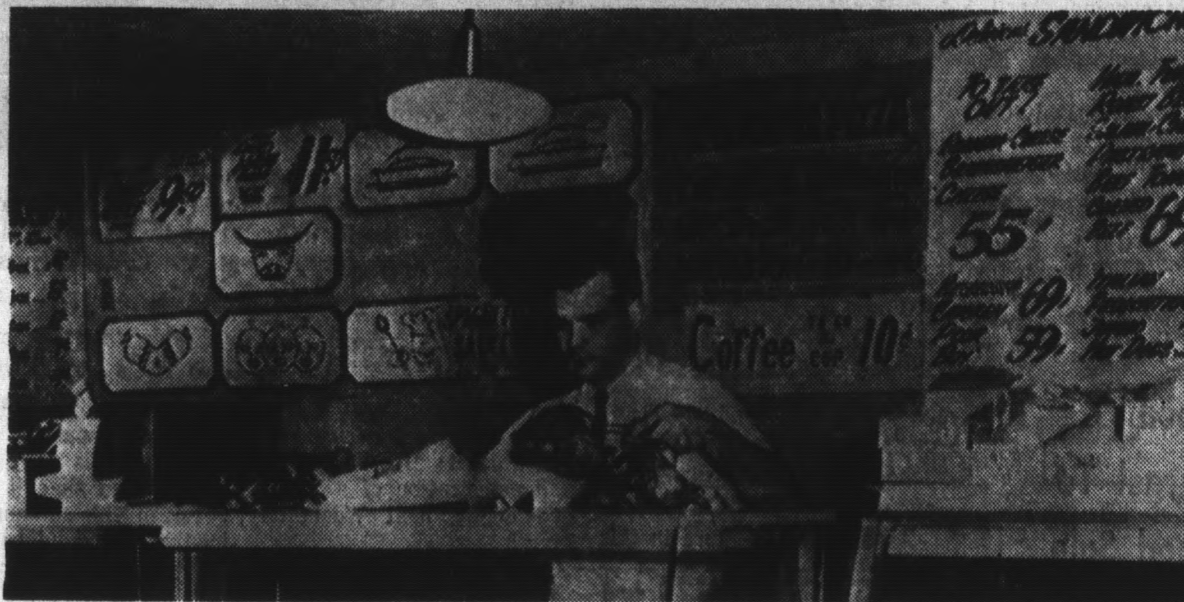

For the student who is interested, there is a pamphlet entitled "Careers in Politics and Political Organizations." From it comes this quotation from Theodore Roosevelt: "The man who wishes to do good in his community, must go into active political life . . . let him make himself an active force and make his influence felt."

Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

IT'S THE DAY before St. Patrick's Day and each and every one of us can feel the Irish blood rising in us. Whether it's true Irish blood stemming from a name like O'Toole or Kelley or Flaherty, or just an admiration and love for things Irish, we'll all be wearing a bit of green tomorrow.

And in our kitchens will be bubbling along a bit of corned beef, with some cabbage and a few turnips snugled in beside it. If our luck holds there will be a fragrant pan of sweepstakes bread bakin' away in the oven.

CORNEB BEEF AND CABBAGE

- 6 Pounds corned beef brisket
- 1 cabbage
- 3 turnips
- 6 onions
- 4 carrots
- 6 potatoes
- bay leaf
- whole clove

Cover meat with cold water. Add two bay leaves and four whole cloves. Heat rapidly to boiling, then remove foam, reduce heat and simmer until tender, three to four hours.

Prepare vegetables, cutting turnips into quarters and cabbage into eighths. About 45 minutes before serving, skim fat from liquid. Add the turnips, onions, carrots and potatoes.

Cover and cook for about a half hour, then add the cabbage for the last 15 minutes of cooking. Cook until all the vegetables are tender. Drain well and serve. Serves 10.

WHEN SERVING this meal I use my largest platter, slice the corned beef and place it in the center and arrange the vegetables around it.

This soda bread has long been a favorite in my family. It's very easy to make and the results are most delicious. The combination of raisins and caraway seed seem to go especially well with corned beef and cabbage.

IRISH SWEEPSTAKES BREAD

- three-fourths cup seedless raisins
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 Tbsp. granulated sugar
- 2 teas. baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- one-third cup shortening
- 1 teaspoon caraway seed
- 1 egg
- 1 cup sour milk

Rinse and drain raisins. Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and soda. Cut in the shortening. Stir in caraway seed and raisins; beat egg slightly and add to sour milk. Stir into dry mixture, blending only until all flour is moistened (important, don't overmix.)

Turn into greased eight-inch round baking dish. Bake in hot oven (400-degrees) about 20 minutes. Cut into wedges and serve with butter. Makes eight wedges.

EARLIER IN THE column I said that most of us would be wearing green today and now I'll finish off the meal with a green dessert. This is a terrific pie, everyone who has ever tried it loves it. And I'm sure you will too.

GRASSHOPPER PIE

- 24 large marshmallows
- two-thirds cup half and half milk
- 1/2 pint of whipping cream, whipped
- 2 Ozs. White Creme de Cocoa
- 2 Ozs. Green Creme de Menthe

CRUST

- 1 1/2 cups chocolate cookie crumbs
- 4 Tbsp. melted butter

Combine the marshmallows and half and half in the top of a double boiler. Cook until marshmallows melt, stirring occasionally. Cool.

Combine the chocolate cookie crumbs and melted butter. Rub together and press into buttered 9-inch pie pan.

Blend the cooled marshmallow mixture and the cremes. Lastly fold in the whipped cream. Pour into pie crust and freeze.

Thaw slightly to serve.

Speaker to Address Slides to Show Visitation Mothers Camping Sites

The Rev. Bertin Roll, O.F.M., Cap., national director of the Arch Confraternity of Christian Mothers, will be the guest speaker at the next regular meeting of the Church of the Visitation Mothers' Club.

The meeting will be held in the parish hall as usual, but the date of the meeting has been changed from the third Wednesday to Thursday, March 24, to accommodate the speaker. The time of the meeting is 8 p.m.

This meeting is open to the public so that any mother desirous of hearing Father Roll may attend.

Beatnik Benefit Set For City of Hope

The Northern Peninsula Chapter of the City of Hope will present "A Living Experience" Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at Mori's Place, 626 Kearny Street, San Francisco.

The affair will be a beatnik style party. Dress is casual. A midnight buffet will be served.

A donation of $10 per couple will be charged.

Information and tickets may be obtained from Mrs. H. La-Pedra, PL 6-0772.

Leftover pot roast tends to be dry and stringy, at times even when you heat it in its good gravy. If you marinate thin strips in oil and vinegar for an hour or so, it changes character. Use it in a cold salad Vinaigrette with chopped capers, pickles, green onions, and hard-cooked eggs.

B'nai Israel Hears Talk By Finalist

The annual oratorical contest sponsored by the Board of Jewish Education in conjunction with the Jewish Welfare Federation will be presented by David Klonoff as a finalist for Congregation B'nai Israel.

David will deliver his speech for the members of the congregation at Friday evening services at 8:15 p.m.

The topic this year is "Hide Not Thyself From Thy Fellow Man."

Reservations for the Seder to be held at our templehouse on Tuesday evening, April 5 at 7:30 p.m. must be received by our president, Gary Kroner, Congregation B'nai Israel, P.O. Box 3244, Daly City, Calif., 94015, by March 22.

Services will be conducted by Rabbi Solomon A. Shore and a complete traditional kosher dinner will be served.

Cost is $12.50 per couple and $3.50 for children under 12 years of age.

Sisterhood Of B'nai Israel To Hold Food Sale

The Sisterhood of Congregation B'nai Israel is now holding its annual sale of Passover foods.

A complete line of foods needed for the holiday is available at the templehouse and chairman, Mrs. Gary Kroner, announces that purchases can be made at the templehouse, 1575 Annie Street, Colma on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons between 4 and 6 p.m. and on Sundays from 10 to 12:30.

Orders called in advance will be made up and ready for pick-up at your convenience or arrangements for delivery can be made.

Mrs. Kroner can be reached at PL 5-8926 or PL 5-3042.

Sorority Chapter Aids Handicapped

Beta Sigma Chapter of the national sorority Epsilon Sigma Alpha presented a check for $300 to Mrs. Gene Marchi, executive director of National Aid to Visually Handicapped last Sunday.

The sorority's check helped swell the twelfth annual fund drive, currently underway to raise $60,000 to help near-blind readers.

The nationwide National Aid to Visually Handicapped has produced some 55,000 copies of 300 classic books such as "David Copperfield," "Jane Eyre," and "Wuthering Heights" in large type for readers with dim vision.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Scanlon, 405 Lakeshire Drive, Daly City, were presented with a plaque for producing a stage show under the sponsorship of the sorority, from which the $300 was derived.

At the same time, transfer ceremonies were conducted for Mrs. Don Yates, 132 San Felipe, Serra Highlands, and pledge ceremonies for Mrs. C. Hall, 170 Beachview Avenue, Daly City.

288 CALORIE MEAL

The complete entree of one cup of Chicken Chop Suey and one-half cup of Crisp Chow Mein noodles totals only 288 calories, according to nutritionists.

High Style in the Offing

SHIRLEY PARKER, Shirley Dardi and June McCarthy of the Mothers Club of Vista Mar School examine some of the fashions which will be displayed at 1 p.m. Saturday in the school's multi-use room. Fashions will be supplied by Celestine's of Skyline Plaza. (Post-Times Photo)

Guide Dogs to Give Class Demonstration

Mrs. Dominge's third grade class at General Pershing School has been studying the eye unit.

As an added feature in this study, Guide Dogs for the Blind will send an instructor and a dog to give the children a demonstration of a "seeing quickly and slice it across the eye dog" next Wednesday, March 23.

Flank steak can stand on its own as a steak with nothing more than hot browned butter and chopped parsley as a sauce. The secret is to pan broil it quickly and slice it across the grain in thin diagonals. Don't let those good juices run away!

By LOUANNE HEATH

IT'S THAT time of the year again when all of us, no matter how improbable it may seem, begin to feel there must be a smidgen of Irish blood in our veins. Tomorrow is the day that the most vitriolic Anglophile is likely to sneak a bit of green into his lapel and celebrate along with the O'Briens, the Murphys, Morans, Sugrues, Hollarans, Ryans, the McCarthys and the McCranes. So, like all the rest, I'll slip a shamrock between the keys of my typewriter and say Happy St. Patrick's Day!

THE MEMBERS of the Tau Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will observe Erin's happy holiday with a corn beef and cabbage dinner in the home of Mrs. Thelma Loos Saturday evening.

Sorority members have plans which will transform the Loos home into an island of green and white and provide a festive setting for introducing this year's sorority pledge-prospectives.

Mrs. Loos and Mrs. Roberta Gould are co-chairmen of the dinner and sisters of the chapter will each bring a dish of their favorite hors d'oeuvres for pre-dinner snacking. Pirate bingo will conclude the evening.

MRS. VINCENT MURPHY will assist the Legion of Mary Society with a candy booth when Holy Angels Parish holds its folk dance program and spring festival in the parish school yard May 7, according to word from Mrs. Frank Murphy, publicity chairman.

Members of the seventh grade class of Sister Henry have voted to have a booth at the festival. The project is aimed at assisting the sisters pay for the land for a new Marin County novitiate. Mrs. Robert Lapochet, room mother, has agreed to help the youngsters with their project, Mrs. Murphy said.

The Rev. Mother Consilla is the honorary chairman of the event and Joe Gumina is general chairman. This year, various organizations are being invited to sponsor booths for the benefit. Anyone interested in signing his club up as a sponsor is urged to call Gumina, PL 6-3325, for information.

Mrs. Murphy is also seeking the names of interested individuals who would be willing to help with advance preparations and thus become eligible to receive a pair of box seat tickets to the Giant-Dodger game of their choice. Call Mrs. Murphy, WY 2-3718, for information.

MEMBERS OF the Beta Sigma Chapter of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority held their annual pledge rites and philanthropic presentation at a tea in the home of Mrs. Mary Ballentine on Sunday afternoon, according to Mrs. Walter Mitterman, sorority secretary.

Mrs. Lorraine Markey of Aid to the Visually Handicapped was on hand to accept a check from the sorority. This year's fund-raising project was a spaghetti dinner with entertainment provided by young dance students. In appreciation of her efforts in arranging for the dance program, the members of the chapter presented Mrs. Trudy Scanlon, with a plaque.

Mrs. Cletus Hall of Pacifica took part in ceremonies making her a sorority pledge and Mrs. Don Yates, formerly a local member who is now returned to this area, was administered rites of transfer and welcomed back by her many friends.

LITTLE MARY WINTERHALTER has just completed her first month in Mary's Help Hospital where she is recuperating from injuries incurred when she was struck by a car.

According to her mother, Mrs. Arthur Winterhalter, the young patient has at least 10 more weeks of hospitalization ahead of her but her spirits are high and she has been enjoying visits from a wealth of friends, including one from Bishop Merlin J. Guilfoyle, and taped visits with her classmates. Incidentally, though she is rather confined physically, she is keeping up with her class work and all the latest trends (i.e., her wheel chair is officially named the Batmobile!).

ST. PATRICK'S Day will also be the day selected by the members of Nu Sigma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi for their monthly meeting and the annual election of officers.

Mrs. Marty Sugrue, publicity woman for the chapter, reports that the meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Janet Bacceti.

MRS. ARNOLD GRUMM and Mrs. Virgil Morton represented the Pacifica Federated Women's Club at the KRON-TV Publicity Clinic and Luncheon at the Brave Bull in Los Altos and Mrs. Karen Johnson and Mrs. Donna Branstetter, also of Pacifica, represented the Beta Sigma Phi, Alpha Alpha Omicron Chapter at the same event.

Film excerpts from award-winning KRON service programs were shown and the club women were invited to join a discussion of television publicity techniques applicable for local use.

Mrs. Ruth Franklin Dixon and Thomas F. Mullahey conducted the clinic and Mrs. Frances Sides, regional representative, consumer relations, was in charge of the entertainment, "Hats and History."

MAY 7 HAS BEEN selected as the date for the annual Notre Dame Alumni Society Fashion Show and Luncheon, to be held in the Hilton Hotel.

Mrs. David Plyer, publicity director, reports that this year the event will also help celebrate the centennial in San Francisco of the Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur in San Francisco. More than 100 years ago, the sisters founded the first women's college in California on a site in Belmont.

H. Liebes is providing the fashions for the event and tickets will be on sale this week for $5 each. Mrs. Anthony Cala of 260 Verano Drive, Daly City, is reservations chairman. Anyone interested in obtaining more information may do so by calling Mrs. Cala at PL 6-6337.

MRS. OLIVE L. PRENTICE, corresponding secretary of the Pacifica Branch of the American Fuchsia Society, reports that the unit will hold its March meeting at 8 p.m. Friday in Sharp Park School.

The program, scheduled to begin at 8 p.m., will feature Mrs. Marguerite Harje, a member of the branch, who will give advice on the pinching and fertilizing of fuchsias.

The public is invited to attend the lecture and remain for refreshments and a social period which will follow, Mrs. Prentice has indicated.

Newlywed

CATHERINE GATES, PAUL BACIGALUPI Engagement Announced

Red Cross Picks Chief

William G. Glang of Millbrae has been elected chairman of the San Mateo Region, Golden Gate Chapter, American Red Cross.

Glang, an agent with State Farm Insurance Companies, has served on the San Mateo Red Cross Board for the past three years and has held the positions of board treasurer and vice chairman.

He has also served as president of the Millbrae Chamber of Commerce and the Millbrae Elementary School board.

Serving with Glang on the board are William F. Murphy of San Mateo, first vice chairman; John R. Whitman of Millbrae, second vice chairman; Judge W. Howard Hartley of Hillsborough, treasurer; James M. Henderson of San Mateo, secretary; and Robert J. MacDonald of San Mateo, legal counsel.

Members of the nominating committee were Miss Elizabeth

Mack, Mrs. Henry Bostwick Jr., and T. Louis Chess, all of San Mateo, and Walter F. Hunter of Daly City.

November Wedding Set By Peninsula Couple

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gates announced the engagement of their daughter, Catherine Hazel, to Paul Louis Bacigalupi at a party for close friends and relatives in their Burlingame home.

Paul is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis P. Bacigalupi of South San Francisco. He and his future bride have calendared November 12 for their wedding in Our Lady of Angels Catholic Church.

Cathy attended Mills High School and the College of San Mateo. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Albert A. Craig of Maryland and the late Mr. Craig, and Mr. and Mrs. August F. Kohler of Washington, D.C. The bride-elect has two brothers: Albert R. Gates of Redwood City and John W. Gates Jr., of Wheaton, Md.

Paul, who attended South San Francisco High School and the College of San Mateo, is the brother of Robert C. Bacigalupi. He is the grandson of Mrs. John Fagundes and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bacigalupi of South San Francisco.

Ursuline Annual Lunch, Fashion School Planned

Stone Novel To Be Aired By Friends

Friends of the Daly City Library are inviting members, as well as the general public, to a book review, which will be given from 10 to 11:30 a.m. tomorrow in the Coral Room of the Westlake Library at 275 Southgate Avenue, Daly City.

The review is based on Irving Stone's latest best-seller, "Those Who Love," a biographical novel depicting the story of Abigail Smith and the man who became our second president, John Adams, told against the background of America's fight for independence and stature.

The author is well-known for his book "The Agony and the Ecstasy," the story of Michelangelo.

Mrs. George H. Bockman, a member of the Friends group, will be the speaker. She has been a president of the California Club of San Francisco and is currently its literary chairman.

She also is literature chairman for the San Francisco Council of Women's Clubs.

A social coffee-time will precede the book review.

AAUW Plans Play At Pacifica School

The Pacifica Chapter of the American Association of University Women will bring its annual children's play to Pacifica Saturday, at Cabrillo school, Crespi Drive and Ladera Way.

The Fantasy Players of White Oak Theater in Carmel will present an original play, "The Wonderment of Gleep." The story centers around a pirate who miraculously turns into a white knight.

Curtain time for each performance is 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

Tickets are 60 cents and may be obtained by calling Katie Haven at 359-3276.

Proceeds from the play are given as a scholarship to a high school graduate who is continuing her education on the college level.

Perpetual Help Mothers' Club Hears Talk on Teaching

A meeting full of interest was promised for members of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Mothers' Club last Thursday, according to Mrs. Joseph Daniele, president.

The guest speaker of the evening, Ernest Farrow of the Addison Wesley Publishing Company, was to speak to the mothers on the new method of teaching math and to clarify some questions that the members may have with illustrations.

Reservations for the club's spring fashion show opened Thursday also, according to the general chairmen of the event, Mrs. Walter Taffrais and Mrs. George Valente.

Models and hostesses for the affair were introduced during the meeting.

The gala affair will be held at the South San Francisco Elks' Club April 23.

JESD to Hold Study Session

Trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District will hold a study session at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the district's offices at 101 Lincoln Boulevard. The meeting is open to the public.

The trustees have agreed to hold a study session each week prior to their regularly scheduled business meeting. The first of the study sessions was held last Wednesday.

UNWIND NERVES

RELAX
YOUR TENSIONS!
ALL DAY-ALL NIGHT

Tension headaches, "Nerves," due to everyday problems, need stronger medication than aspirin remedies. Instead, take 12 clinically proven ALVA-TRANQUIL tablets. Their tension-relaxing, pain-relieving, sedative-calming ingredients act fast, more effectively than aspirin—for relief of anxiety, worry, depression, sleeplessness, due to simple nervousness. Get genuine ALVA-TRANQUIL tablets. They really work, give superior results, up to 8 hours. At Thrifty Drug counters. Refuse substitutes.

THE GARB OF yesteryear stole the show at the annual Founder's Day program of the M. Pauline Brown P-TA. Members modeled fashions of days gone by and sang songs of yore. Recipients of the P-TA's annual life membership awards were Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Wiard. The program was held in the school multi-use room.

Westview to Offer Bazaar of Food

The Westview P-TA will present an international food bazaar tomorrow evening at Westview School. The bazaar will feature food from many countries with a program of songs from many lands. A Dutch Auction also will be held. The public is invited.

The Pacifica Navy Mothers Club will hold a benefit game next Friday night at 8, at the American Legion Hall in Rockaway Beach.

Cost of admission will be $1 per person. Proceeds of the game will be used for welfare work.

The club meets every second Thursday of the month, at the First National Bank in Eureka Square in Pacifica.

Friends of Library Plan Second Annual Book Fair

The second annual Book Fair sponsored by the Friends of the Daly City Library will blast off the city's observance of National Library Week. Set for Saturday, April 16, in the mall at the Westlake Shopping Center, the Book Fair is the major yearly fund raising project of the Friends of the Library.

Chairman of this year's event is Mrs. Lincoln Walter of Daly City. Mrs. Walter has asked for the support of the community in saving any and all kinds of books for the Fair.

Children's editions and records are very welcome as are any types of paperbacks, textbooks and novels. According to Mrs. Walter, a wide variety will be available at very modest prices.

Books may be deposited at any of the Fire Stations in Daly City, as well as at the three libraries.

Mental Health Is Topic Of Westmoor Unit Meet

The Westmoor P-TA will hold its next meeting at 3 tomorrow afternoon in the Little Theatre.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Howard Gurevitz of the North County Mental Health Center in Westlake.

The doctor will discuss the emotional problems that seem most serious in the North County region.

Adolescent problems will be stressed in order that teenagers and their parents may have a reason to attend the meeting.

The doctor will also review the facilities available at his center. He will answer questions after his presentations. The unit's nominating committee will report on its proposed slate of officers for the coming school year at the close of the meeting.

Drama Class Will Stage One-Act Play

For Oceana P-TA

The Drama Class of Oceana High School will present the one act play "For the Love of Michael," at tomorrow evening's P-TA meeting at 8 p.m. in the multi-purpose room.

The play concerns Michael's second wife, and his first wife who has come to steal a nude painting of herself by her former husband.

Under the direction of Vern Carpenter, Michael's present wife will be played by Barbara Johnson; her mother by Barbara Carroll, and Michael's former wife by Lynne McFadden.

The slate of officers nominated for the upcoming P-TA year will also be presented.

Garden Village P-TA Makes Presentation

Garden Village P-TA presented Frank Swanson with an honorary life membership pin at the February 17 meeting. The presentation was made by Mrs. Sal Scaduto, chairman of the Founders Day program.

The March program was a talent show, put on by the students of Garden Village School, under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Schneider, sixth grade teacher.

Here's how it works. Look at the first symbols (the prefix) on your vehicle identification slip. Then look at the symbols listed above. If you find yours on the list, you've taken the first step toward being a winner. Now go see your Buick dealer. He has a list of 72 winners posted in his showroom. If you see your entire vehicle identification number on the poster—the symbols plus the rest of the number—$2332 cash is yours. (If your prefix isn't listed in this ad, don't give up. Your numbers may have been posted during the past few weeks. And every week there are 72 new winners posted on the showroom wall. So watch for next week's list of new symbols in this newspaper.) No slogan to invent, no puzzles to solve. In fact, you don't even have to own a Buick to have a winning number. While you're in the showroom, get a good look at the Buick Special. Good Friday Observance Is Planned

The executive committee of the Reverent Observance of Good Friday Movement has appointed the following officers to head the 1966 campaign, Richard J. McCarthy, president, announced. John J. Enright and Mrs. John J. Ryan will serve as vice presidents; City Treasurer John J. Goodwin, treasurer, and Miss Louise May Caskey, secretary. McCarthy said Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken accepted the post of honorary president, and Monsignor Matthew F. Connolly, Apostleship of the Sea Mission will serve the group as chaplain.

The Finance Committee will be headed by Vice President Enright, with card distribution by Walter Moniz. Former Chief of Police Michael Riordan will direct a committee whose task will be urging taverns and theatres to close on Good Friday between noon and 3 p.m.

Louisa May Caskey will head a mailing staff whose job will be addressing letters to some 5,000 Bay Area businesses and industries requesting that employees be permitted time off on Good Friday between noon and 3 p.m. to attend a church of their choice for purposes of prayer and meditation.

The Reverent Observance of Good Friday Movement was founded in San Francisco in 1919.

For the past 56 years, "The Committee of 100" representing most of the parishes of the San Francisco Roman Catholic Archdiocese has gathered each year during the Lenten season for the purpose of encouraging a more solemn observance of Good Friday and the three holy hours—noon to 3 p.m.—when Christ died on the Cross for all peoples of Christian faith.

Good Friday occurs this year on April 8.

Wesley Will Host Aide Of District

Dr. D. Clifford Crumney, superintendent of the Golden Gate District of The Methodist Church, will preach Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service of Wesley Methodist Church in Daly City.

Pending completion of a new church building, all worship services, are being held in the Thomas Edison School at 1296 Southgate Avenue, Daly City.

Dr. Crumney came to his present position from a ministry at Grace Methodist Church in Stockton.

In addition to his denominational responsibilities, Dr. Crumney serves on the boards of directors for the Glide Urban Center, the San Francisco Council of Churches and the Northern Churches.

He has been involved in planning some of the most experimental—and controversial—of the Church's new ministries. He is regarded nationally as an expert on urban life.

Baptists To Hold Dinner

The Christian Men's Fellowship of the First Baptist Church of Pacifica, will hold an installation dinner at 7, Friday night, at the church.

Cecil Cooper of 1256 Alavardo Avenue, president of the Northern California Baptist Men, will perform the installation ceremonies.

Richard Gray will serve as president; Anatonio Conte as secretary, and Hershel Speck, as treasurer.

Presbyterians Plan Sermon

"The Contrasts of Communism and Christianity in Faith and Morality" is the sermon topic of Rev. Herbert Tweedie this Sunday at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377-87th Street, Daly City.

The 9:30 a.m. worship service will be participated in by Job's Daughters, Bethel 198, of Daly City of which Janet Hamilton is honored queen.

Latter-Day Saints' Meeting To Be Hosted By Daly City

The city of Daly City will host the San Francisco State Quarterly Conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, Saturday and Sunday, at the Stake Center at 1399 Brunswick Street.

Officials who will attend the conference include: Elder Delbert L. Stapley, Elder Alfred B. Smith, Elder Charles E. Mitchener and Lorraine Bowman. State President Irven Glade Derrick of 408 Skyline Drive, will conduct all the sessions of the conference.

Elder Stapley is a businessman, community leader and scout executive from Arizona. He was named to the church's presiding council in 1959. He is a member of the National Committee of the Boy Scouts of America.

Special meetings for MIA and welfare leaders will be held Saturday. Visitors are invited to attend conference sessions.

Forty members of Westlake Community Baptist Church spent the weekend of March 5 at Redwood Glen near La Honda, California.

The pastor, Dr. H. H. Stemberge, led the group in two discussion sessions concerning the meaning and validity of the modern church and its significance in the modern community.

On Friday evening written material concerning a concept of man as a worshipping being bound to an economic order, and the basic contradictions in which man finds himself almost unavoidably involved was presented in excerpt form to the group for thought and study.

On Saturday morning the group considered more specific questions relating to Westlake Community Baptist Church. They were told: "This church is not primarily an organization; she is an organism."

Dr. Stemberge stated that the real purpose of the retreat was to give church members an opportunity to question themselves, their purpose in belonging to a church, the problems within the church itself and the problems outside the church proper, but which are the proper concern of the church.

Westside To See Movie

"God's Will Through Yours" is the title of a film that will be shown Sunday evening at the Family Fellowship Hour of the Westside Baptist Church, 2322 Crestmoor Drive, San Bruno.

The film is being used in many of the 630 Conference Baptist Churches across the United States and Canada.

The Rev. A. David Donnelly is continuing an emphasis on stewardship and will bring the second in a series of messages on stewardship, "Blessed Is The Investor," at the 11 a.m. Morning Worship Hour Sunday.

Rotary Club Hears Speech

Dr. Ed Saslaw presented Mrs. Hertha Bahrs as the speaker of the day at a recent luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club of Daly City.

Mrs. Bahrs works with the Intake Department of the Juvenile Division of the County of San Mateo.

She said that the national average of teenagers brought to the attention of juvenile authorities is 5 per cent. In San Mateo County the average is 2.3 per cent.

The same rate has continued here for the past 10 years although the number has increased with the population.

American Legion Honors Members

Daly City Post 410 of the American Legion will honor six of its members with life memberships at its thirty-fifth birthday dinner at the International Inn in South San Francisco, Saturday.

The men to be honored include: Peter Borsden, Felix Foreman, Leslie Hill, John Matzek, Emile Pahlka and Marcell Smith.

VANDALISM REPORTED

Herbert Ritzmann of 452 El Dorado Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that vandals had fired a BB through a window of his home.

Westmoor's Stage Band In Festival

Westmoor High School's dance band is more commonly known as a stage band. Over the years the ability of this group has been improving and it has become known in the Bay Area as one of the top stage bands.

Twenty-one members of the band with three vocalists and four chaperones, will travel to Reno Friday, for the fifth annual Stage Band Festival at the University of Nevada.

Westmoor will play on Saturday.

The vocalists, Cathy Jones, Michelle Genereaux and John Spencer, will not sing at Reno, but will introduce the band selections. This group rehearses one period each day, under student leaders Mike Shakkelford and Richard Pena, with the guidance of their instructor, Mr. Howard Loeffler.

The band members and their instruments are:

Saxophones: Richard Pena, Bruce Saltzman, Russ Kerger, John Bamont, Dan Norton and Dale Taylor.

Trumpets: Herb Decker, Tony Viegas, Ed Finley, Chuck Johnston and Bill Koss.

Drums: Jim Reiter, Ken Wickham and Don Ragland.

String Bass: Jim Sudduth; Piano, Mike Shakkelford, and Electric Guitar, Dennis Crocker.

The Westmoor Stage Band played in the Stage Band Festival in Reno two years ago. Larry Blake, then lead trumpet, was picked as the outstanding musician there, and was given a scholarship to the summer music camp at Lake Tahoe. Last year Larry won a half-scholarship to the Berklee School of Music in Boston and is studying there now.

Also two years ago, Mel Ellison, lead tenor sax, received a full scholarship to the Berklee School of Music from Downbeat Magazine. The same year, five members of the band were named to the honor band from the stage band festival held at Rioridan High School. The honor band rehearsed under prominent musicians from the Bay Area, and a record, and were guests at the Fall Monterey Jazz Festival.

The band and/or its individual members have been the recipients of many more honors. At present, former members of the band are serving in the Armed Forces or going on to school.

More than half of the members are on the honor roll. Last year Brad Hansen made straight A's and this quarter Chuck Johnston and Mike Shakkelford did the same.

Terra Nova Topics

IT'S SCHOLARSHIP season and Terra Nova seniors are in the race and running.

Neena Nocita is a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Program. This places her in competition with the top one-half of 1 per cent of the high school seniors in the country.

Three TN trophy winners with opportunity to compete for cash awards ranging up to $1,000 in this year's Bank of America Achievement Awards are Bob Del Bianco for science and mathematics; Nancy Etchell, fine arts, and Neena Nocita, liberal arts.

SIX OTHER students who were cited for "their superior performances in specific fields of study" will receive certificates of merit. They are Charlene Franzee, art; Tom Granvold, mathematics; Dave Premenko, industrial education; Pam Reagan, social science; Cathy Simon, home economics, and Barbara Thiel, business.

Five TN seniors are semi-finalists in the State Scholarship competition. They are Andrea Drake, Tom Granvold, Bill Grumm, Pam Reagan, and Nancy Etchell.

Jefferson Engineers Plan For Future With Training

Future engineers at Jefferson High School are being prepared for the future with a unique "on-the-job training" concept of Gerald Maxwell, a Jefferson industrial arts instructor.

His students have learned from practical experience how an industry is created, how it works, and some of the internal problems of manufacturing.

Through FETPOMAX a student company within the second and third year mechanical drawing classes and beginning first year woodshop class—students learn to design, engineer and mass-produce articles which are placed on sale to Jefferson students.

FETPOMAX stands for "Future Engineers in the Process of Making an 'X'." 'X' being the secret mass produced project which will be sold to the Jefferson students.

In addition to secret project "X," the company has completed some 40 other projects which are used around the school.

Maxwell's purpose is to give his students an idea of what industry is really like as well as to train them in decision-making.

Everything that happens in industry occurs in this company, including strikes by the labor unions, revisions, "do-dates," and paychecks.

FETPOMAX started in 1962 with few students. In 1963 Maxwell introduced his idea to a whole class, and now he has three groups (subsidiary companies) competing against each other.

These classes (companies) do different and specialized jobs. These jobs and departments include:

A design department, to develop designs and make revisions for all problems going through the company.

A drafting department, to draw plans and make prints.

A program engineer, to schedule the work load.

A material engineer, to apply value engineering and reduce costs with better materials or machine methods.

An accountant, to maintain the company books.

A consulting engineer, to analyze production methods and plant efficiency.

A production engineer, to develop the flow of material and operations on the assembly line.

A company president, to serve as co-ordinator.

A company secretary, to maintain files, type job specifications and make blueprints.

Youth Groups Plan Meeting

The Missionettes and Junior Missionettes of Bethel Church of Pacifica will hold a special meeting Saturday.

The girls will meet at the church at 10 a.m. with a sack lunch and then will go to the residence of Mrs. Marilyn De La Vega, their sponsor.

Purpose of the meeting is to work on Easter gifts for patients at the Linda Mar Convalescence Hospital.

The Missionettes and Junior Missionettes are selling candy to raise money to pay their way to the Missionette Convention April 7.

More information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Joyce Heitman, 355-2016, or Mrs. Teresa Daniels, 355-2639.

Youth Grabs Woman's Purse

A youth grabbed a Daly City woman's purse containing $3 shortly before 11, Thursday night.

Grace Miller of 1050 Hanover Street said the incident occurred while she was walking near Evergreen and Brunswick Streets in Daly City.

She described the youth as about 18 to 20 years old, slender, and wearing a red T-shirt and dark pants.

VANDALISM REPORTED

Officials of Vista Grande School at Thiers Street and Wyandotte Avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that vandals had damaged student projects in the school.

459 Listed On Honor Roll At Westmoor

Twenty-three Westmoor High School students out of the total enrollment of some 2,150 have received semester grades of straight "A's."

Another 34 barely missed, received all but one "A."

According to school officials, another 403 scholars earned a "B" average or better, bringing the combined total to 459.

On the Honor Roll with all "A" grades are seniors Russell Baird, Robert Brodie, Sue Irby, Rayme Lichtenberg, Marilyn Morgan, Wendy Morrison, Bonnie Robertson, Mike Shakkelford and Alana Silva.

Juniors on the list are Angela DaCunha, Muriel Friedman, Charles Johnston and Bill Villalob.

Sophomores Lawrence Diamond, Betty Hodgekiss, Kathy Knowlton and David Smotkin are also included, as are Freshmen Glenn Bjorkquist, Kathryn Blume, Michael Bruhn, Cathy Meade and Jeanie Olson.

Ram Faculty Acquires Two New Members

Joining the faculty of Westmoor High School are two new teachers. Both are replacing former faculty members who have left Westmoor.

Kathy Youdall is a new addition to Westmoor's Physical Education Department.

Graduating from San Francisco State College, Miss Youdall spent her time student teaching at A. P. Giannini Junior High School in San Francisco.

Miss Youdall replaces the former Miss Shirley Oliver who was married.

John Ryland has also become a part of Westmoor's teaching staff.

Before coming to Westmoor, Ryland taught Spanish at a school in El Paso, Tex.

Ryland attended both the University of Kansas and the University of Panama in Central America, as well as going to school in Mexico.

Coast Church Slates Sermon

"The Startling Christ" is to be Walter Stram's 11 a.m. message, Sunday at the Peninsula Church of Christ, Olivet Chapel, Hillside Boulevard and F Street, Colma.

"The A.B.C.s of the Bible" will be the 6 p.m. message.

This church sponsors the "Christians' Hour" radio program, at 11:15 a.m., every Saturday on KFAZ, Dial 1100.

Mary's Help—Ready for Any Emergency

By DENIS WADE
NEIGHBORS look up as an ambulance races through Daly City, its siren wailing. If the ambulance carries a patient from a serious accident, a white telephone may ring in the emergency department at Mary's Help Hospital, high on a hill above the Junipero Serra Freeway. The call will advise the hospital staff that an injury victim is on the way. Similar telephones are installed in other San Mateo County hospitals, connected to the "county control" communications system of the sheriff's office.

Whether or not there has been advance warning, regardless of whether the patient is an accident victim or seriously ill, Mary's Help Hospital will be ready.

THE EMERGENCY DEPARTMENT can handle 14 patients at once under normal conditions — and more in a severe emergency.

There are 19 full-time employees and three who work part-time. The emergency staff is actually too large, according to Jessie Miller, director of nursing.

"But we've been here only two months," she said. "It will take a summer and a winter to determine just what the size of our staff should be."

MARY'S HELP is operated by the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul. In addition to doctors, nurses and technicians, there is always a sister on duty or on call.

When a patient comes in, he is taken to one of six completely equipped treatment rooms.

A seventh room is used for observation of patients "not ill enough to admit, but too sick to send home," according to Leroy Eyheralde, registered staff nurse.

The staff immediately sets about determining the nature of the illness or injury, and providing treatment.

IN ADDITION, emergency personnel are trained to calm the patient, relatives and friends.

The function of the emergency service, as spelled out in a guide memorandum for the staff, is "to supply the help that a patient requires in order for his needs to be met."

In addition, "The emergency room nurse must be able to provide a stable environment which will alleviate uncertainty, anxiety and the strangeness of the emergency room."

Mary's Help is as concerned about the patients' psychological needs as his physical needs.

A DOCTOR takes personal charge of each patient, aided by nurses and assistants. A unique call-phone system lets each doctor dial a code number, which indicates to the switchboard operator exactly where he is in the hospital. Everything necessary for treatment of the patient is already on hand in the treatment room, or is available at the touch of an intercom. Everything necessary for treatment of the patient is already on hand in the treatment room, or is available at the touch of an intercom.

If a cast is necessary, materials are there.

X-ray, laboratory and diagnostic facilities are located off an adjoining corridor. So are the blood bank and pharmacy.

In addition to the hospital's central sterilization facilities, the emergency department has its own equipment capable of "flash" sterilizing instruments within seconds.

"WE TRY TO MAINTAIN personal privacy, both for the patient and the doctor," Eyheralde explained.

To this end, the hospital's designers even provided separate elevators to spare patients the necessity of mingling with curious visitors and others should they be admitted to the hospital.

Of the 760 emergency patients that arrived during the hospital's first month and a half, 101 were admitted to the hospital.

The others were released or transferred.

Nine were dead on arrival.

Mary's Help statistics show that 315 of the patients were residents of surrounding neighborhoods in Daly City. A total of 145 were San Franciscans. Pacifica contributed 107. A total of 86 patients came from South San Francisco and 40 from Colma.

"THEY TOLD US we were needed here," Miss Miller said, "and we have found that we were."

As the figures show, most of the emergency service patients live nearby. Further, most of them are children. Most frequent cause of visits and weekend afternoons and evenings are the busiest time for the emergency staff.

AFTER A PATIENT has been diagnosed and treated, medical records are filled out. If the person is discharged, one final stop remains: the business office.

Mary's Help patients pay a flat fee for emergency room care — plus the cost of whatever medications or special treatments they have received.

Most patients feel the price is little enough to pay for the comfort and security of having a first class medical facility close by.

The number of emergency patients treated so far at Mary's Help bears out Miss Miller's statement that the hospital was needed.

Already, as the neighborhoods and freeways grow around it, the modern hospital on the hill is a vital part of the North County.

Recreation Department Sets Trip

Saturday, March 26 is the date set for the Annual Junior Teen Snow Trip sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department.

Buses will leave the War Memorial Community Center and Westmoor Park at 5:30 a.m. for the all day event at the Pinecrest Resort in the Sierras.

The day's activities will include feature contests and toboggan races. A hot dinner meal on the return trip is also a part of the day's plans.

Cost to teen club members is $7, which includes chartered bus transportation, insurance and the dinner.

Guests will be charged $8. A $1 non-refundable deposit reserves a spot for the club member on the trip.

The balance of the money must be paid by Wednesday, March 23.

Permission slips are being mailed to all members and they are urged to get their reservations in early, as a limited amount of spaces is available for the trip.

The Snow Trip will be supervised by teen club advisors and adult chaperones under the general direction of Mr. Peter Vallarino, Supervisor of Recreation.

Further information on the trip may be obtained by calling the Recreation Department at PL 5-0850, ext. 35.

D.C. PLANNERS

Hearings Delayed On Zoning Plans

Daly City Planning Commissioners last week postponed public hearings on two new types of zoning for 60 days to allow the city planning staff time to make some changes in the proposals.

The changes to the city's zoning ordinances would set up a new "CO" office commercial district and an "S-1" design review district.

The "S-1" zoning, unlike any presently on the books, would be applied to districts with other zoning classifications, to allow control of architecture and design in areas of "civic significance."

The hearings will be rescheduled.

In other action last week, the commission approved a use permit for a used car lot sign on the wall of a building at 6811 Mission Street. The applicant was C and L Used Cars. Also approved conditionally were plans for Serramonte Unit number four.

Jeff Senior Is in Program

Robert Candenbritten of 311 Ottilia Street, Daly City, is a member of the California Scholarship Federation program at Jefferson High School.

Last summer, he studied ecology at the University of Nevada under a scholarship awarded by the National Science Foundation. He is a senior at Jefferson.

Three rezoning applications that had been held up because of a six-month zoning moratorium were placed on the commission's next meeting agenda.

Thomas J. Callan Jr. is asking a rezoning of three lots at 480 Westlake Avenue and three lots northeast of the intersection of Santa Cruz Avenue and Hillcrest Drive from single family to multiple family.

The Edelfred Corporation is seeking a rezoning of four lots at the northeast corner of Parkview Avenue and Mission Street from multiple family to commercial.

Last fall, the city established the rezoning moratorium on the general area to which these applications apply to allow its planning staff to prepare an overall plan for the region.

The area will include a terminal station for the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

City Planner Edward Lawson recommended that the three applications be considered on their own merits at the commission's next meeting, rather than continue to hold them pending completion of an overall plan.

He said it might be two years before a plan could be completed.

In other action, the commission heard a report from one of its members, Leonard Brown, on a study by the Bayfront Committee of the Regional Planning Committee of San Mateo County.

Brown served as chairman of the Bayfront Committee.

'Rainbow' To Be Staged At Westmoor Hi

Moonbeams, longing dreams and a crock of gold compose the story of "Finnian's Rainbow," which will be presented beginning March 24 by Westmoor High School students, under the direction of the Fine Arts Department.

Behind the glittering scenes of "Finnian's Rainbow" work is in progress.

The costumes are being done by Jean Milton, Cathy Brickley and Jan Moss.

Mr. Robin Jackson's stagecraft class is helping with the sets.

The lights will be handled by Ken Phillips and Pam Tomacello. Sound effects will be handled by Ted Roberts, and the props will illuminate Westmoor's Little Theatre stage will be done by Jeff Wildman.

"Finnian's Rainbow's" house manager will be Ray Montosa, and his assistant is Horacio Macalpin.

Vote Would Beat Rising Land Cost

By BERENICE PALMER

Measure B in Pacifica's April election requires a two-thirds favorable vote, if the city is to purchase approximately 15 acres of land for its Civic Center.

Many residents have wondered why the bonded indebtedness of $300,000 for acquisition, is being asked for now when construction may not start for five more years.

With the rising price of land, reservation of a site now will insure the city of a desirable location and a lesser price than in the future, according to City Manager Karl Baldwin. Once the money is available, he stated, it will place the city in a better position to bargain for lighting designer, Howard Loeffler is musical director. Miss Marsha Wilson of the College of San Mateo is choreographer while English teacher Miss Jan Sammar is helping with costumes, make-up, organizational problems. The designing posters and programs will be handled by Brooks Darrow.

land, rather than having to hold another election when the need for the site is critical.

The present city quarters are in a former schoolhouse in Sharp Park.

A Civic Center Site Committee has previously analyzed eight possible sites. Mori's Point, Rockaway Beach, and an area near the Sea Bowl in Linda Mar were considered the most promising.

Although at first it had been thought that no State or Federal funds would be available for the project, a study just released by financing consultants, Stone and Youngberg, reveals that Pacifica can receive a federal grant for advance acquisition of land. This would come under the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1965.

The grant would provide more than $50,000 towards interest cost on any long term financing used to acquire the civic center site. The facility must be started in five years, however, the grant stipulates.

The 15 acres of the Civic Center would accommodate the city council chambers, the headquarters offices for the various city departments, a community center building (auditorium) and related governmental offices including certain state and county functions. Necessary acreage for parking, landscaping and future expansion would also make up the space.

Cost to Pacifica taxpayers: An annual tax levy would start at 5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation for one year. This is the highest amount anticipated according to the Youngberg study, and will be reduced yearly to three and a half cents.

Bayshore Schoolteachers Given Pay Boost of 6.1%

A 6.1 per cent pay increase for teachers in the Bayshore School District has been approved by the district's board of trustees.

The board also approved a new 12-step salary schedule, replacing a 13-step schedule now in effect.

The pay increase and the new schedule will go into effect in the 1966-67 school year, beginning July 1.

Under the new schedule, a beginning teacher will receive $5,900 a year. The present scale is $5,512.

At the top of the schedule, a teacher with 75 units of graduate work will receive $11,800 annually. The present 12th step calls for a salary of $10,653.

The salary boost and change in the schedule had been recommended by a teachers' committee. There are 24 teachers in the district.

Last year, the trustees approved a salary increase of six per cent.

In addition to the new pay provisions, trustees also increased the district's contribution to the cost of a health plan from $8 to $10 per teacher.

Action on the salary schedule and health plan contribution was taken at the trustees' regular monthly meeting.

Machines Taken At D.C. School

Daly City Police report that burglars invaded the Bayshore School sometime early last Thursday morning.

Items taken included several hundred dollars worth of office equipment — among them an electric typewriter, a standard typewriter, and a Thermofax duplicator.

Officers said the thieves entered through a transom.

MEETING CRUCIAL

D.C.'s Cow Palace at Crossroads Seals to Leave

By JOHN HORGAN

The Daly City Cow Palace will be at a financial crossroads in the coming weeks.

Officials of the North County facility went to Sacramento Monday morning to plead their case for nearly $2 million to be used for the refurbishing of the huge building.

The legislature will vote on the request sometime in June.

L. C. Smith, president of the officers of the Cow Palace led the delegation that is seeking the funds; the cash has been termed "a must" by Smith if the Cow Palace is to be competitive with other facilities around the county—and now in Oakland.

Smith says that the complex "needs the money now more than ever before." He couldn't be more correct. The year 1966, twenty-fifth anniversary of the Cow Palace, turns out to be its year of decision.

Although the Cow Palace is "booming" with conventions, sporting events, livestock shows, music concerts, exhibitions and the like there is a strong feeling that all is not well. The new Oakland Civic Auditorium is one of the prime reasons for this concern.

Oakland, which has already drawn off San Francisco's professional ice hockey team, the Seals, figures to cut into some of the other Cow Palace renters as well.

But the manager of the county's only large convention facility, Edward Diran, tends to downgrade any talk of "competition" with the East Bay.

Holds Grand National

"There is room on both sides of the Bay for both of us (the Cow Palace and the Oakland development)," said Diran last week. "Really, by getting us to move ahead on our improvement program, Oakland might be a blessing in disguise, for us."

The $2 million sought by Palace directors from the state (the Cow Palace is a state-owned facility) will be used precisely for the purpose of making the building and the grounds comparable to its prime rivals.

The funds, if approved by the legislature, will be used to improve lighting, communications, heating, fire prevention facilities, restrooms, parking and the general appearance of the giant hall.

With all the talk about improving the Cow Palace one fact seems to have been ignored: It was never built to house sporting events, boat shows, Beate concerts or revival meetings. It was built at a cost of $1 million to hold the Grand National, a week-long livestock exposition, horse show and rodeo.

The first Grand National was held in 1941. The first Junior Grand National was originated six years later.

The facility is owned by the state and operated under the State Department of Agriculture, Division of Fairs and Expositions, and is administered by the No. 1-A District Agricultural Association.

College Cage

After World War II, when the Cow Palace was used by the patrons attended events at the Cow Palace in 1965.

The largest single night paid admission was recorded on February 14, 1963, when 17,311 showed up to see Ray Stevens defend his wrestling title against Pepper Gomez.

The Billy Graham Crusade of 1958 holds the all-time attendance record with more than 700,000 attending the 58-day revival meetings.

Economic surveys have shown that the Cow Palace generates over $15,000,000 in added business each year to San Francisco and San Mateo counties.

Conventions Coming?

The "Palace" housed the 1964 Republican National Convention. Reaction to the facilities, the area, the parking, the police control and other key factors was so favorable that Diran feels that "we have a real good chance to land both conventions in 1968."

Site committees for both parties will be in the Bay Area next January and Diran is keeping his fingers crossed that necessary improvements will have been made by then.

"There is nothing 'wrong' with the Cow Palace," he emphasized. "We all agree that the Cow Palace needs to be modernized. It can be updated over night, compared to building a new facility."

Diran is especially concerned about a movement in San Francisco to build a new downtown sports arena that would, by its very nature, compete with the Cow Palace. Added impetus to such a project was given when the Seals decided to move from the Palace to Oakland to play in the National Hockey League during the 1967-68 season.

"Perhaps with a little civic persuasion from our city (San Francisco) to assist us in our lone effort to offset the very intensive and determined effort made by the Oakland civic and coliseum members, they (the Seals) could have been persuaded to stay here where they belonged," Diran lamented.

Crucial Monday

Along with the sought-for $2 million in the Governor's budget there was an additional $600,000 allocated for the lowering of the arena's floor to improve hockey conditions. That added money won't be needed now.

New Format Proposed For Beauty Fete

A new format for the finals of the annual Miss Daly City contest was proposed last week at a meeting of the sponsoring Daly City-Colma chamber's board of directors.

Evert Terminello, co-chairman with Fred Martin of the contest, suggested that a celebrity be asked to emcee the final judging of the contest.

In past years, a member of the chamber has handled this duty. Terminello said that Carter Smith, a disc jockey with radio station KSFO, has agreed to emcee the chamber program at no cost.

The co-chairman also suggested that a one-day "glamour workshop" for contest entrants be set up on the Saturday prior to preliminary judging.

The preliminaries will be held April 29, in the Little Theatre of Westmoor High School and the finals will be held May 27.

Terminello said the workshop "will encourage girls to enter the contest."

Director David Friedenberg, noting criticism of last year's program, suggested that the finals be a non-dinner event and should be held in a Daly City school auditorium where it might attract a larger audience.

In past years, the finals have included a dinner. Last year's event was held in the South San Francisco Elks Club.

Chamber President Edward Morgan endorsed Friedenberg's suggestion. He noted: "It's certainly discouraging to work and bring in a celebrity and have a handful of people turn out."

Morgan asked Terminello to call a meeting of the Queen Contest Committee to discuss the proposals further.

CHAMBER MEETING

Need for Second Hospital Is Told

Daly City and its neighboring communities were pictured as an area that will need a second hospital in coming years. The picture was painted before a meeting of the directors of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce at their monthly luncheon meeting in Val's Redwood Room Restaurant.

Chamber manager Peter Markovich noted that Mary's Help Hospital, now serving the North County, handled 1,020 emergency cases during the first five weeks it was open.

He reminded directors that Mary's Help serves not only the North County but the Sunset area of San Francisco, as well. "Eventually, with the influx of people into this area, we're going to be able to use two hospitals," Markovich remarked.

The discussion on hospital services was triggered by a question from Chamber President Edward Morgan who wondered if Kaiser Foundation Hospitals have made any overture to Daly City.

Early last month, Kaiser officials confirmed they were looking at possible building sites in the North County. The present Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco has only 40 beds and is reported operating at capacity most of the time.

City Manager Edward Frank told the chamber that Kaiser officials have indicated an interest in building in Daly City and that Kaiser has spent about three months looking over the North County.

He added that no commitments have been made. Councilman Bernard Lycett said that Kaiser representatives at one time had looked at a 21-acre site adjacent to Westmoor High School. The area is now planned for houses and apartments.

Lycett said he thought the Kaiser interests "lean toward Daly City."

In other business, the directors decided to honor Mrs. May Holland at a testimonial luncheon April 14.

Mrs. Holland has served the chamber in her capacity as Markovich's secretary for 13½ years. She has announced she will retire May 1 and return to her native Chicago.

Markovich lauded Mrs. Holland's work over the years, noting: "Let's face it—she's always been willing to do a little something extra for us."

Directors agreed to declare their next meeting "May Holland Day."

In other action, the chamber accepted the resignation of Ben Peralta as a director, and appointed Daly City Attorney Paul Huff to succeed him.

Peralta said an increasing number of his insurance clients live in the southern part of the county and he is unable to devote sufficient time to the chamber.

Heard a report from Vincent Murphy, chairman of the Brochure Committee, that 3,200 chamber brochures had been mailed out.

Adopted a change in the by-laws, establishing a lifetime membership award and honorary memberships for leading governmental and school officials.

The criteria for determining a deserving recipient for the lifetime award will be proposed at a future meeting, members were told.

Heard a report from David Friedenberg, chairman of the Publicity Committee, that the chamber will work together with city officials in publicizing city events, such as ground-breaking and ribbon-cutting ceremonies.

Boat Theft Arrest Made

A Daly City man was arrested Thursday on grand theft charges in connection with the theft of a 19-foot runabout boat and trailer from the Cow Palace during a boat show last month.

The suspect is Donald E. Toberner, 29, of 63 Peoria Street. He was released in $5,500 bail. Police said the boat and trailer had been taken from the south wing of the Cow Palace sometime between 4:30 p.m. February 15 and noon February 16. The Traveller Boat Division of Stockton reported the theft.

S.S.F. Library Has Computer Books

Computers and automation are swiftly changing the modern world. There is a particularly interesting advertisement which you can see if you ride the buses.

It shows a complicated arrangement of wires and "thingamabobs" and asks the question, "When this circuit learns your job, what are you going to do?" One answer might be to learn about the circuit. The South San Francisco Free Public Library has a group of books to help you do just this.

For those who just want some background information on what all the fuss is about, "The Analytical Engine" by Jeremy Bernstein will provide a non-technical introduction to the world of the electronic computers.

Anyone considering making his career in the computer field will find "Basic Computer Programming" by Theodore C. Scott valuable. As well as describing what a computer is and how it works, this book teaches the first steps in becoming a computer programmer.

Another thoroughly basic approach can be found in "Fundamentals of Data Processing" by Allan Lytel. Hundreds of charts, diagrams, and photographs add to the value of the text, which covers history of the computer, computer arithmetic, storage and memory, input and output, and programming.

An easy-to-understand study of computer programming fundamentals can be found in "ABC's of Computer Programming" by Allan Lytel, and the same author explains the mathematics necessary for providing instructions for the computer in "Fundamentals of Computer Math."

Technical Education and Management, Inc. has put out a six-volume set under the title "Computer Basics." This comprises a complete technical course on the subject. The organization, design, programming, and maintenance of digital and analog computers is thoroughly handled.

An advanced text, definitely not for the layman or beginner, but meant for design engineers concerned with the development of digital communication or for people concerned with procurement of this kind of equipment is "Data Transmission" by William R. Bennett and James R. Davey. It presents a comprehensive discussion of techniques used for accurate and rapid transmission of data from one point to another.

WILSON QUITS

County Fair Is Without Manager

William ("Bill") Wilson, general manager of the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta for 14 years, has quit the job.

Wilson, who lives in Half Moon Bay, announced his decision at a press conference last week. He submitted a letter of resignation under the date of Wednesday to the Fair's board of directors last night.

It was reported that the meeting was at times stormy, but both Wilson and Board President St. George Lafitte this morning denied any ill feeling exists.

This leaves the directors with a county fair due in five months and no chief of staff to run the show.

Noting that this is the third year in a row that the fair has faced a crisis within months of opening day, Lafitte shrugged it off with "We are used to crises."

Two years ago, the board discovered its main display building was in dangerous condition and could not be used, and last year completion of repairs to that building seemed unlikely to be completed before fair time. The fair muddled through somehow, he said.

"Proving that the fair is bigger than any of us," said publicist Dick Harris.

Lafitte said no immediate replacement for Wilson is on hand.

He said he does not even know whether Wilson's $12,000-per-year job will be refilled, since the board in January created a new post of executive director with a salary of $18,000 per year.

Lafitte said applications for that job should be made to the county personnel director. He said the board has not even had any job feelers, except for receiving a recommendation from Southern California for a man whose application had been submitted to the personnel chief.

The deadline for applying for the new job is March 31. Lafitte said, the same day Wilson will quit working as general manager.

Wilson said today he plans to "get as much done as can be," in March, and then to spend a week in Palm Springs before taking one of the "two or three" other jobs that have been offered him.

"I am not mad at the board, or anything like that," he said, "or I would not offer to stay on the job through March, and to be available after that to help the new director."

He said he would not be leaving the San Mateo County area, and that he would be "on call" to help the new executive director get things running smoothly.

Wilson said he would not be available to fill his job full-time, even for a short period, however, and would not consider returning to, or remaining on the job.

Asked whether he wanted the new job of executive director, Wilson said positively, "No."

"That job will require a lot of new promoting, a lot of traveling. I don't want it."

Whether Wilson's job will be refilled, or whether there will even continue to be a job such as Wilson now holds, depends on the new executive director, Lafitte said.

"We would not complete the reorganization until we get the new man," he said.

"The directors set the policy, but it'll have to be a co-operative effort."

"There may be further reorganization. That will depend on how the new man wants to work, how he feels he can work. He may decide he doesn't want a director for the fair, but would rather have an assistant for that, and an assistant for that."

"That's a bridge we'll have to cross when we come to it."

He said he is "sorry to see Bill resign. I've tried to convince him he shouldn't."

"I commend him on the good work he did for the last 18 years."

Wilson also handed out commendations in his letter ending those years:

"We should all be very proud of our accomplishments since construction of the Fiesta Building in 1948—with our association greatly in debt at that time—the press and public clamoring for more quality and efficiency—which has been accomplished—and I would like to acknowledge the co-operation of not only our directorate but also the Division of Fairs and Expositions, Western Fairs Association, the press, chambers of commerce, city officials, garden clubs. The contributions from trade unions, nurseries, the untiring efforts of the exhibitors, volunteers, our staff and many others too numerous to mention."

"Their co-operation has made your San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta financially sound and one of the top ten in California."

"Now you are venturing into a new era with the county coming to our aid to improve our facilities and equipment. This will help do what has been the aim of this association for many years—create a better plant for all events."

"A new chapter in the history of our fair association has begun and I hope will reflect much greater success."

"This is my way, ladies and gentlemen, of submitting my resignation, effective March 31, 1966. My future in addition to offering to the best of my ability my continued support in the production of this fair, has not been decided as yet, but I do wish the San Mateo County Fair every success."

SSF Permits Hit $408,750 In February

Building permits for construction totaling $408,750 were issued by the City of South San Francisco during February.

All of the construction is commercial—no permits for residential construction were issued during the month.

Of the six projects authorized, the largest and most elaborate is a $165,000 dental center planned by Dental Associates at 1135 Mission Road.

The semi-circular building will house several dental operating suites, offices, waiting areas and other patient facilities, built around a central reflecting pool.

Architects for the new building are Markling and Yamasaki of South San Francisco.

Chamber Has First Meeting

The San Bruno Chamber of Commerce conducted its first general membership meeting of the year last evening at the Moustache Pizza Parlor in Pacific Heights Shopping Center.

The meeting was the first since new President William J. Schneider took over the reorganized chamber in January.

According to Chamber Manager Dick King, last night's program was to include an outline of the group's program and progress by committee chairmen, and a general question and answer period.

D.C. Co-ed On Scholarship Winner List

Seventy-eight of the finest all-around junior college students in Northern California will be honored at a banquet tomorrow night in San Francisco.

Representing 39 schools, the students will each receive a cash award of $200 and a certificate of merit from Bank of America under the bank's Junior College Business Awards program.

Among Peninsula winners is Janice Higgins, 854 Schwerin Street, Daly City, as student at College of San Mateo.

The students were selected by their school faculty on the basis of scholarship, extracurricular activities, and personal qualities.

Presenting the awards at the Hilton Hotel will be D. C. Sutherland, executive vice president in the bank's San Francisco

Pacifica Chamber Hears Candidates

Although the John Birch Society states in its literature that "We are fighting the Communists, nobody else," Pacifica Council candidate Basil Gladioux, who described his affiliation with the John Birch Society, fought newspapers, city officials, bond issues, and a few "super agencies" in an address before the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce Thursday.

Gladioux, who lives at 538 Reina Del Mar, Pacifica, is one of nine candidates for the City Council who were given equal time, a maximum of five minutes, at the Chamber's luncheon meeting.

Chamber president Stanley Vanderhule had previously announced that the by-laws allow no individual Chamber endorsement of any candidate.

Gladioux, who has openly followed John Birch policies in all his activities in the community, attacked what he called the present "establishment"—the City Council, City Manager Karl Baldwin and publisher and editor of a weekly newspaper, The Pacifica Tribune, William Drake.

Gladioux said that the City Council had "brought the local Chamber of Commerce to its knees" and was using the bond issue as a "flanking movement," and the bond issue is "a lost cause."

He took a few swipes at the State Division of Highways in particular and the federal government in general.

"I'm sick of super agencies," he said.

George Mason, a former mayor and councilman, who is again a candidate, called Pacifica a "bedroom community" and challenged the cost of the beaches and the bunker. He said the public still used private beaches, and that "taxes were the issue."

Robert Keating, another candidate said: "Don't vote for me if you want the ballot proposals. I feel we are already too far on the road we are going."

The progress and future development of Pacifica was the interest of candidate Frank Wright, Millbrae school teacher, and a long-time Pacifica resident.

He supported the three ballot proposals. He said he had a "special affection for the beaches" and their potential.

"Where would we be in this country," he asked, "had we taken a conservative attitude toward needed purchase of land and beaches?"

He said that high standards were imperative for the development of the city and the proposals were part of a good plan.

William Hartz said he was a newcomer to the city and probably a "dark horse candidate." He supported the bond proposals as "the most vital issue facing the community."

"We have to prepare for the next 10 years today," Hartz is general manager of the National Finance Company. Nick Gust of Rockaway head office. Senior Vice President Robert T. Shinkle will serve as master of ceremonies.

Featured speaker will be John Ralston, head football coach at Stanford University. His subject is "Formulating Proper Attitudes Toward Your Learning Experiences."

J. H. Staley Will Design County Fair

San Francisco landscape architect John H. Staley has been named designer of the 1966 San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta, fair board president St. George Lafitte has announced.

Staley, who has worked on many large scale projects in the Bay Area, was selected from among a number of designers seeking the position. He will begin working immediately on plans for the 1966 show, set for August 5-13.

A registered landscape architect, he has been in private practice as a landscape architect and site planner in the Bay Area since 1946.

Staley is currently president of the Board of Directors of the California Spring Garden Show in Oakland, and was co-designer of the show in 1955.

He is a past president of the American Society of Landscape Architects, Northern California Chapter; a former vice president of the California Association of Landscape Architects and a member of the board of directors of the California Council of Landscape Architects.

A designer of the nationally known Kaiser Roof Garden in Oakland, Staley assisted in landscaping the new Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City, Los Altos Hospital, Piedmont Hills High School and the Overfelt High School in San Jose.

His projects, which also include many residential gardens throughout the Bay Area, have been featured in several national home magazines.

Staley, who lives in Oakland, received his B.S. degree in landscape architecture from Iowa State College and did graduate study at the University of California at Berkeley.

For the past several years the Fiesta has been designed by William Whipple of Burlingame. Whipple moved from the area late last year.

Daly City's Young GOP President 'On Fence'

By DENIS WADE
"If the primary were held at this moment, Mr. Reagan would carry it," according to Mike Djordjevich, newly elected president of the California Young Republicans.

However, Djordjevich added, he prefers to watch the candidates' campaigns before deciding who to support.

"We are not going to get officially involved in the primary fight," he said, speaking for the Young Republicans. Instead, the group will build its strength and support the Republicans who are nominated for the various state offices.

About one subject, the 29-year-old YR leader was emphatic: "I am very anxious to see Mr. Brown out of Sacramento," he declared.

Rising taxes, continued unemployment, a high crime rate and failure to lure California's share of new industry all point, Djordjevich said, to "the ineptness of Mr. Brown's administration."

A SUPERVISOR for a San Francisco, insurance company during the week, Djordjevich estimates his YR duties occupy three or four hours each night, as well as every weekend.

What little time is left is devoted to his wife, Marie, and their new home at 32 Caroline Way in Daly City's Southern Hills subdivision.

Djordjevich, a native of Yugoslavia, came to the Bay Area in 1956 to join members of his family, who had earlier fled the iron curtain.

He served in the U.S. Army, graduated from the University of California at Berkeley, and received a Master of Science degree from San Francisco State College.

"VOLUNTEER ORGANIZATIONS will be necessary to help the Republicans win in November," Djordjevich declared. To illustrate the importance of volunteers, he pointed to the 1964 state primary, in which Arizona

Senator Barry Goldwater, with massive volunteer support, defeated New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller.

New YR Leader

While the official party organization is predominantly concerned with electing candidates, he said, volunteer groups such as the YR's have a two-fold purpose: electing party candidates, and advancing principles and public discussion of issues.

The president of the 10,000-member Young Republicans has sharp views on many of those issues.

Of the John Birch society, he said, "To paraphrase former President Eisenhower, there are many very fine, dedicated Americans in the Birch Society." He has reservations about some of the statements and actions of the society's members, Djordjevich added. And he said, "I would say that 40 to 50 per cent of Birch Society members are Democrats."

ON THE LIBERAL California Democratic Council, YR leader said, "The CDC is maintaining the same extremist position it had under Simon Casady," who was ousted as president last month.

As far as other groups go, he declared, "The Young Democrats organization is definitely more extreme than the Young Republicans."

Djordjevich said of a California withholding tax, proposed by 27th District Assemblyman Leo Ryan: "This is just another gimmick that the welfare state is promoting."

On politics in education, "I have the clear-cut conviction that higher education in California is heavily weighted to the left. There are a number of colleges in the state where we can't even find a sponsor for a Young Republican club."

On the Viet Nam Day Committee: "There is evidence that the VDC does not express the views of college groups, but of the Communist party of the United States."

Of the "free speech" movement at Cal. "It is not a question of free speech, but of anarchy and subversion."

DJORDJEVICH ALSO expressed his views on national topics.

What does he think about the administration's programs?

"The whole Great Society program is an immense fraud and swindle on the American people, the greatest one in their history... it is only a vehicle for the Democratic party to buy votes and reward the party faithful."

Some administration programs have merit, he admitted, but the Great Society is characterized by "graft, corruption, immorality and wastefulness."

As far as Medicare goes, "I am afraid that our hospitals and medical system in general may be crushed under the burden of Medicare."

INTERNATIONAL ISSUES, too, concern Djordjevich—specifically, the United Nations, from which he believes the U.S. should withdraw.

"With the present arrangement of the organization, I feel that the best interests of the United States are not served," he declared. In particular, he said, he feels that the U.S. should have more voice than a tiny nation with few people.

S.F. Meeting Draws JUHS Counselors

"The guidance program in our district is excellent!" This was the conclusion of the Jefferson Union High School District's counselors who attended the three-day state conference of California Counseling and Guidance Association held in San Francisco February 20-22.

Nationally prominent leaders in the profession were participants in the conference with the theme "The Counselor as an Agent of Change."

Attending the 80 section meetings of the conference from the Jefferson High School District were Elizabeth Hall, Jefferson High; Doris Lindfors, Margaret Riggs, Rosemary Smith, Robert Blancke, Phil Capitolo, Robert Hyde, and George Simon, Westmoor High; Pablo Perez, Terra Nova High; Joe Conway, Robert Blevins and Frank Lawler, Oceana High; Mary Rita Crittenden, district psychologist and Robert Gross, recently appointed projects co-ordinator of the district office staff.

From the Jefferson Elementary School District's Benjamin Franklin School two counselors, Rosemary Hillman and Verna Mara also attended.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

The Cause of Cavities—

The cause of cavities is not known, but most dentists agree sugar is considered as one of the possible factors. This is not the whole answer, but it is important to remember that if we are going to face facts, we may have to limit the sugar in our diet for the sake of our teeth. The problem is a great one. Among sugar containing items are many of the fruits, fruit juices, and vegetables. Even skimmed milk contains about 5% sugar. The list is almost endless, and includes such things as cookies, candies, soft drinks, pies, cakes, ice cream, jams, jellies, etc. Ask your dentist about the amount of sugar permissible for the health of your teeth.

Dr. Campbell limits his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for some; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Cancer Drive Is Readied On Peninsula

"One hundred and ten lives saved in 1966 is our goal."

So said Carl F. Roepke Jr., Cancer Crusade chairman of the San Mateo County branch of the American Cancer Society.

The crusade will open on the Peninsula April 1.

Roepke estimated the potential of the "Tell Your Neighbor" campaign as 110 lives saved per year in San Mateo County. That's the number of cancer deaths he said could be prevented by earlier diagnosis and treatment of the disease.

Backbone of the countywide Crusade for "A check-up and a check" is the residential phase. Roepke said. That's the neighbor-to-neighbor distribution of educational literature and collection of donations to carry on the ACS programs of service to patients, medical research and life-saving education.

Recruiting of the city chairmen, area chairmen and block workers who will carry the Crusade message is a year-round job for Mrs. Leonardo S. Bacci of Hillsborough, now in her third year as volunteer chairman of the residential campaign.

"The pace steps up in March," Mrs. Bacci said, "and we're still eager for more enlistments in the house-to-house Crusade."

Prospective volunteers may call San Mateo County ACS headquarters at 1517 South B Street, San Mateo, or the city Crusade chairman in their community.

In addition to their life-saving mission, these city chairmen and their helpers have specific fund goals to make up the countywide 1966 quota of nearly $124,000, Roepke said.

This month approximately 30 Daly City women have volunteered to become area chairmen for the American Cancer Society unit in Daly City.

Chairmen are Mrs. Marion Wahl, Mrs. Dolores Leonard, Mrs. Eleanor Guisti and Ernestine Tierney. The Daly City goal is $3,650.

In South San Francisco, where the goal is $4,150, Mrs. Charles Milly is chairman.

San Bruno's chairmen are Mrs. R. E. Cochran and Mrs. Eugene May, who are aiming at a $4,000 quota.

In Pacifica, with a $2,075 quota, Mrs. Charles Rodriguez and Mrs. Jjanita Silva are co-chairmen.

Filing Opens For Veterans

Filing for veterans' tax exemptions have opened in Daly City and will continue until May 2.

The exemptions may be filed in the city clerk's office. A veteran filing in San Mateo County for the first time may obtain information and instructions by calling the city clerk's office at PL 5-0850.

Terra Nova P-TA to Offer Talk on Social Diseases

One of the most vital and important programs to be presented by the Terra Nova High School P-TA this year will be given at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Terra Nova High School cafeteria.

The topic of the program will be "Venereal Disease—A Growing High School Menace."

Presenting this subject will be Dr. Edward K. Williams, prominent Peninsula physician and lecturer.

In addition to being an assistant professor of clinical medicine at Stanford Medical School and an instructor in health education at the College of San Mateo, Dr. Williams is the author of the book, "Health for Better Living."

Tomorrow night's program will begin with a flag ceremony by the Pacific Civil Air Patrol, followed by an abbreviated business meeting which will include the election of next year's officers.

Dr. Williams will then present his program, which will close with an open-end question and coffee period.

Parents are asked not to bring their younger children below the second or third year of high school. Adults or older teenagers who are accompanied by adults are urged to attend.

Dr. E. K. WILLIAMS
P-TA Speaker

Absentee Ballots May Be Obtained

North County Voters who expect to be absent during the April municipal elections may obtain absentee ballots at city clerks' offices until April 5.

Further information about the elections, scheduled April 12, may be obtained by calling the city clerks' offices.

Pacifica CD Names Group For Alert

A committee has been appointed by the Pacific Civil Defense and Disaster Council meeting for a drill in April.

Kenneth Hill from the Red Cross, Paul Hansen, service chief of radar monitoring, and Bob Verlen, radio operator officer, will be in charge of plans. They will work with Frank Peter, administrative assistant of Civil Defense.

A budget study has included recommendations for establishing an emergency operating center in the Milagra Ridge World War II bunker. The bunker, which will be converted to a police headquarters and jail, will be used 25 per cent by Civil Defense as an emergency operating center.

Pending receipt of financial aid of up to 50 per cent from the federal government, the Civil Defense Council will budget around $25,000 towards cost of the bunker. The Police Department budget will provide the other $25,000.

DID YOU EVER GET steak for the price of hamburger? Of course not! You get only what you pay for!
CAN YOU REALLY AFFORD the luxury or extravagance of buying a "cheap" washer or dryer? Remember — the high cost of servicing a "cheapie" makes it a luxury to own one — and remember, too, you will probably have to replace it in two or three years at best. Can you afford to own a "cheapie" and stay within a budget? Of course not! In the long run, it's just too expensive!
IF YOU WANT DEPENDABILITY features that mean something and contribute to the washability of the washer, then get the washer or dryer that will work its heart out for you, year in and year out. Get a Maytag — the DEPENDABLE washer and dryer!
QUALITY, AT A PRICE YOU CAN AFFORD — Maytag quality, from its beautifully styled rustproof (guaranteed) cabinet to the LIFE-TIME corrosion-proof pump! Quality is a tradition with Maytag!
USE YOUR HEAD! GET a Maytag, as over 16 million Americans have already — more than any other brand!
MAYTAG MANUFACTURES THE SAME high quality into each Maytag built! Regardless of price! For instance, the same quality rustproofing goes into each machine! All transmissions and pumps are actually interchangeable on all models, regardless of price!

SHRIMP-BANANA BAKE, FAR EASTERN STYLE
—A subtle blending of flavors and textures plus ease of preparation give this shrimp and banana dish its special appeal.

New Invention Utilizes Bananas

Oriental cuisine is characterized by its subtle blending of flavors and textures, and Americans have certainly taken to this fare, even inventing a few dishes — like Chow Mein!

Another such invention is Shrimp-Banana Bake. Bananas with shrimp, you say? Yes, indeed, since the ancestors of today's carefully cultivated bananas had their beginnings in the humid regions of Southeast Asia. And there's many an authentic Far Eastern dish that combines bananas with other native favorites — pork and poultry, fish and seafood, coconut and pineapple.

Appealing, too, is ease of preparation. While the plump shrimp and mellow bananas are baking, there's ample time to cook up a pot of fluffy rice, and simmer the appetizing Sweet-Sour Sauce top-of-stove. This borrows another tropical fruit, pineapple, and sparkles it with spicy soy and the zest of ground ginger.

If you've never tried baking bananas before, you're in for a pleasant flavor surprise. The mellow fruit takes on an entirely new and exotic taste, and makes a delightful "vegetable" to brighten everyday and company main dishes. Nice for Lent, too, with most any fried or broiled fish. And you can vary the flavor with a curry sauce, or a brown sugar and lemon juice glaze, or simply baste with honey or syrup in the baking.

BAKED JUMBO SHRIMP WITH BANANAS

2 lbs. raw or frozen shrimp in shell
4 firm bananas, peeled
¼ cup melted butter
Cooked rice
Sweet-Sour Sauce
Remove shells from shrimp, leaving the first joint and tail. Place in greased ovenproof dish; brush with butter and bake in moderate oven (350-degrees F.) for 15 minutes. Place bananas in dish with shrimp, brush with butter and bake 15 minutes longer. To serve, mound cooked rice and shrimp on heated platter; surround with bananas. Serve immediately with rice and Sweet-Sour Sauce (below). Serves 4.

SWEET-SOUR SAUCE
1 (1 lb. 4½ oz.) can pineapple chunks
1-3 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup apple cider vinegar
2 teaspoons soy sauce
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
Drain pineapple, reserving syrup. Combine sugar and cornstarch in saucepan. Add vinegar, soy sauce, ginger and reserved syrup; stir to mix. Cook over medium heat, stirring until thickened and clear. Add pineapple chunks and simmer two minutes. Makes about 2½ cups.

Season The Fish With Delicacy

Lenten foods are delicate dishes and should be pampered with a light but knowing seasoning. Fish fillets, for instance, quietly demand the delicate touch and it's the gentleness of golden seasoning and broth that is the flavor enhancer of this fish.

Fish fillets Veronique with its green grape interest and a delicate sauce seasoned with golden seasoning and broth is a Lenten dish with a gourmet flair. Easy fillets with broiled tomato halves and green peas with celery and perhaps, an endive salad. For dessert, an airy orange chiffon pie completes a delightful menu.

FISH FILLETS, VERONIQUE
½ pounds fillet of sole or flounder
1 cup green grapes
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 envelopes golden seasoning and broth
½ tablespoons flour
If frozen, thaw fish. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Grease a 6 x 10 inch baking dish. Cut grapes in half. Seed if not seedless variety. Melt butter. Stir in seasoning and broth. Brush fillets with seasoned butter mixture. Roll up each fillet and secure with toothpick. Place fillets in prepared baking dish. Bake, uncovered, for 10 minutes. Sprinkle grapes over top of fish and bake for 15 minutes longer, or until fish flakes with fork. Remove fish from oven and place with grapes on a warmed platter. Pour juice from fish into a measuring cup. Add enough water to make two-thirds cup. Pour into small saucepan. Mix flour with enough water to make a thin paste. Add to fish liquid, and cook, stirring constantly until sauce thickens. Pour sauce over fish. Makes 4 servings.

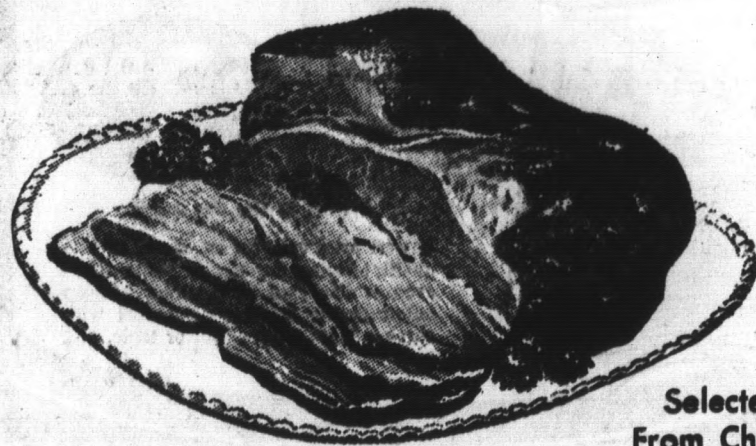

SALMON, MEXICANA
2 7¼ oz. cans salmon
1 small green pepper
1 small onion

12 oz. can sliced mushrooms
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 teaspoons sugar
2 envelopes golden seasoning and broth
1 1 lb. 3 oz. can tomatoes
2 tablespoons cornstarch
Open salmon and remove skin and bones. Break into chunks. Remove top, seeds and membrane from green pepper. Cut into small pieces. Peel and chop onion finely. Drain mushrooms. Melt butter. Add green pepper, onion, mushrooms to butter and cook until tender and delicately browned. Add sugar, seasoning and broth, tomatoes and cook gently 10 minutes. Add enough water to cornstarch to make a thin paste. Add to seasoned mixture and cook until sauce has thickened, stirring constantly. Serve with rice. Makes 4 servings.

FISH CASSEROLE, BRAZILIAN
1½ lbs. fish fillets
3 envelopes golden seasoning and broth
5 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 large onions
2 cups cooked sliced potatoes
3 tomatoes, sliced
3 hard cooked eggs, sliced
3 tablespoons dry bread crumbs
If frozen, thaw fish. Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Grease a 7 x 11 inch baking dish. Cut fillets in half. Place fish pieces on waxed paper or aluminum foil. Sprinkle each side of fish pieces with 1 envelope seasoning and broth. Melt three tablespoons butter in skillet and cook onions until tender but not browned. In prepared baking dish, place a layer of potato slices. Then place layer of fish, top with a layer of onions, a layer of tomatoes and finally a layer of eggs. Sprinkle top with bread crumbs mixed with remaining envelope of seasoning and broth. Bake, uncovered, for 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

A Risotto Dish From Italy's North

ROME (AP) — Sure, spaghetti is a national Italian dish. But that's only half the story—the southern half, that is.

In the northern part of the country rice is right — the right kind of crop to be grown in the flat damp fields of the Po river valley.

Po folks and just about everybody else north of Rome also find rice to their taste. They grow up on it, export it to other nations and can cook it in ways so delicious it can drive visions of pasta right out of your head.

It's not strange that the joys of Italian rice dishes are largely unknown in other countries. Most nations learned Italian cuisine from Italian immigrants. For the most part they were people from the pasta and pizza purloins of Naples and points south. But northern Italians have always preferred rice.

Italian rice (called risotto when cooked) is light, white and sweet to the tooth. The basic Italian rice recipe can serve as the first course or the main dish of a meal. And once the basic technique is acquired, you can make yourself appear a master cook with almost any number of variations. All you do is add pieces of chicken, lobster, oysters, game, mushrooms, peas—almost anything that's handy and takes your fancy.

A prime rule for risotto dishes: Never serve the rice apart from other ingredients. Everything is mixed together. Here is a recipe for Italy's classic rice dish:

RISOTTO A LA MILANESE (Rice Milan-Style)

4 generous tablespoons butter
1 small onion, chopped fine
2 tablespoons beef marrow (optional)
1 1/2 cups short-grain rice
2-3 cup dry white wine (Italian Soave or American Chablis)
2 chicken bouillon cubes dissolved in 4 cups boiling water
3 or 4 threads saffron
2 tablespoons grated parmesan cheese

The beef marrow should be taken from a raw marrow bone. Marrow adds richness to the different dish.

1. Put 2 tablespoons of the butter in a heavy pan over moderate heat.

2. Put in the chopped onion and let it turn golden but not brown.

3. Add the beef marrow if you have it.

4. Now add the rice and stir it until it is all well covered with the melted butter. Don't let it turn brown. Stir almost constantly.

5. When the rice is thoroughly drenched with the melted butter, pour in the wine and let it cook over the same moderate heat until the wine has almost disappeared.

6. At this point, start adding the chicken bouillon, 1 cup at a time. Wait until 1 cup is absorbed by the rice before you add the next.

7. At the end of 25 minutes or so the rice should be tender with a creamy but not sticky consistency.

8. Pour the saffron-steeped bouillon into the mixture and stir it in.

9. Now stir in the last 2 tablespoons of butter and the grated parmesan cheese.

10. As soon as the cheese melts, serve to 6 people.

It's nice to have an extra amount of grated parmesan on the table for whoever wants more cheese.

To make variations, add whatever you like — shrimp, or peas or chicken or something similar —when you are stirring in the last butter and cheese. Each version will be a distinctively different dish.

MAKING RISOTTO ALLA MILANESE—The cook pours the white wine so it will be ready to add to the butter-simmered and onion-flavored rice.

Now the chicken bouillon is added, a cupful at a time, to the rice mixture before the saffron and parmesan cheese go in.

Say 'Che-e-e-s-e'

You don't have to be on a candid camera to say "cheese" and so broaden your smile. Its, also a smart thing to say when you want something interesting for a simple menu, easy to prepare, tasty, and nutritious.

Cheese is made from milk, skimmed milk or cream. Most types are made from the curd, but some are based on whey. The process is one of enzyme or ferment action; the ferments are derived from various molds or bacteria. The type of cheese is determined by the mold or the bacteria and by the process used.

Cheese is a concentrated protein food, containing up to 36 per cent by weight of protein, mainly casein. Thus a three-ounce portion of cheese would supply about one ounce of protein, or about 40 per cent of a day's requirement for an adult male (154 pounds) doing average work. The fat in cheese varies from almost none in uncreamed cottage cheese to about 30 per cent in the more "fat" cheese.

Almost every nation has its favorite cheeses, determined by the kind of milk used, the enzyme, and the conditions of curing. Practically every variety of foreign cheese is paralleled by a similar type made in the United States. Often the domestic is indistinguishable from the import. This is due to the immigration of expert cheese makers from many nations, and the duplication of aging conditions such as constant-temperature caves, where the same procedure can be carried on as in the original setting.

Possibly the cheese in most common use is cottage cheese, because of its mild flavor, less calories, and its adaptability to mixing with cream, chives, pineapple or other flavorings, and its compatibility with fruits for a low-calorie, vitamin and mineral-rich luncheon platter. The Germans call it "schmierkase" (spreading cheese).

English cheddar and its American counterpart are popular, too, for toasted sandwiches, Hollandaise dressing, in cream pie, in cold cuts and for topping casseroles of scalloped foods, or just for eating by the hunk as snacks.

Cream cheese is useful as a basis for cheese dips, with one of the "bleu" varieties such as French Roquefort, Danish or American blue, English Stilton or Italian Gorgonzola. Other good white cheeses are American brick, Dutch Edam or Gouda, French Brie, Savoia or Neufchatel, or "pineapple."

Somewhat more robust in flavor are the Swiss types, Gruyere or Emmenthal, the French Camembert and the Belgian Limburger, or the American Liederkranz.

A useful cheese for sprinkling over pasta dishes or onion soup or wherever a dash of piquancy is desired, is grated Parmesan. This is best purchased, if possible, in chunks, and grated directly off the piece, but the ready-grated product is good if it is kept closed, refrigerated and not allowed to grow too old.

Brown cheeses are a favorite in Scandinavia; they include goats' milk cheese and the German Muenster. Gourmet varieties of cheese are flavored with sage, spices and wines.

Yes, madam, when in doubt, say che-e-e-s-e—and smile.

Red-Green Soup For The He-Man

There's really nothing to it, putting together he-man "Red and Green Soup." Open four cans from your pantry shelves, heat with zippy seasonings and serve with a cresting of cheese. Nothing in the cans goes to waste, not even the liquid in the can of Blue Lake green beans. Blue Lake, incidentally, is not a brand name. It is the varietal name of a distinctive pole bean developed especially for canning and grown in the verdant, water-blessed Pacific Northwest.

RED AND GREEN SOUP
1 can (1 lb.) Blue Lake green beans
2 cans (10 1/2 oz. each) condensed beef consommé
1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon celery seed
1/2 teaspoon pepper
Grated Parmesan cheese
Combine undrained beans with undiluted consommé, tomatoes, onion, lemon juice and seasonings. Bring to boil; reduce heat and simmer a few minutes. Serve steaming hot in bowls with generous sprinkling of cheese.
Makes about 6 servings.

SCALLIONS ON YOUR SOUP

Real Quickie Sauce For The Barbecue

The warm days are nearing, and that means the barbecue, on the Peninsula. Here's a real quickie of a barbecue sauce.

Spring Brunch
Stuffed Grapefruit Halves
Baked Eggs in Toast Cups
Whole Canadian Bacon with Speedy Barbecue Sauce
Sautéed Mushrooms
Gingerbread
Cocoa Coffee
Speedy Barbecue Sauce
1/2 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed onion soup
1/2 cup ketchup
1/4 cup salad oil
1 large clove garlic, minced
4 drops "Tabasco" sauce
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Combine all ingredients. Cover; simmer 10 minutes; stir often. Place whole Canadian bacon in shallow pan. Pour sauce over meat. Bake at 325 degrees for 1 hour; spoon sauce over meat often.

QUICK TIPS
Stuffed Grapefruit Halves
Slice grapefruit in half. With a sharp knife, cut out fruit in one piece. Then remove segments and seeds. Toss segments with whole seedless grapes, plumped seedless raisins, and diced fresh pears. Heap in grapefruit shells — to make "cup" level, cut a slice off the bottom.

Baked Eggs in Toast Cups
Line buttered custard cups with bread triangles, toasted on one side, placing untoasted side down. Break eggs into cups, allowing 2 eggs per person. Bake in a pre-heated oven (325 degrees) about 15 to 20 minutes.

Honey Glaze Makes Roll Party Fare

With an intriguing filling of snipped fresh California dates and a buttery-sweet glaze of honey and orange juice, "Glazed Date Rolls" make for perfect breakfast munching or bridge party fare. The flavors of fresh dates and oranges have quite an affinity for each other. Combine husky California date slivers, orange sections and pineapple chunks and drizzle with a mixture of pineapple syrup and fresh lemon juice as either salad or dessert.

Glazed Date Rolls
1 cup fresh California dates
1/3 cup honey
1/4 cup fresh orange juice
7 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
2 cups biscuit mix
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
2-3 cup milk
Ground mace

Snip dates into small pieces with kitchen scissors. Combine honey, orange juice and 3 tablespoons butter in 8- or 9-inch square pan. Heat in 400-degree (hot) oven until butter is melted; stir to blend. Cut 2 tablespoons butter into biscuit mix with pastry blender. Add sugar and orange rind; toss lightly. Add milk and mix to soft dough. Turn out and knead lightly on floured surface. Roll into 9-inch square. Spread with remaining butter; sprinkle with dates and mace. Roll up and cut into 9 (1-inch) slices; place cut-sides down over honey mixture in pan. Bake in 400-degree (hot) oven 25 to 30 minutes. Separate rolls and remove from pan, or invert pan immediately onto plate. Serve warm.
Makes 9 rolls.

SCALLIONS ON YOUR SOUP

Blueberry Fill Tops Lemon Pie

Like a new hat, a new dessert is exciting news to most home-makers. The trick, of course, is to be the first in the group to serve the "find," the dessert that everyone thinks so tasty that they beg for the recipe before leaving your party. We think that this Blueberry Crowned Lemon Pie will rank as one of the dessert treasures of the season because it's unusual, frivolous and colorful, too.

The crust for the pie is flecked with toasted coconut that adds a wonderfully nutty flavor and helps to make this a pastry both tender and easy to handle. Next comes a filling blessed with the delicate touch of lemon. This part of your pie creation will take longer than the others, but it isn't difficult to prepare and is well worth your efforts. The filling is much like a creamy-smooth chiffon sweetened with whipped cream and the sunshine tang of lemon. Atop this, and simplest of all, go plump blueberries spooned right from a can of blueberry pie filling. It's truly a pie that says "springtime," though we're certain it will be a favorite all year long, for few will be able to resist the double treat combination of blueberries and lemon.

Tangy Split Pea Bowl With Thins

BLUEBERRY CROWNED LEMON PIE
1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
3/4 cup toasted coconut
5 to 6 tablespoons milk
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup water
2 egg yolks, beaten
1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin
1-3 cup lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1 cup light cream
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 No. 2 can (2 cups) blueberry pie filling
Mix together flour and salt; cut in shortening. Stir in toasted

Coffee
Tangy Split Pea Bowl
1 can (2 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
1/2 teaspoon thyme
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 can (11 1/2 ounces) condensed split pea with ham soup
1 soup can water
Lightly brown mushrooms with thyme in butter. Add soup and stir to smooth; gradually stir in water. Heat; stir often. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Quick Tips
Frosted Apple Juice: Chill juice glasses, moisten rim and dip in granulated sugar before filling.
Hot Toasted Thins: Spread assorted toasted thins—white, whole wheat, etc. on a cookie sheet; dot with butter and sprinkle lightly with paprika. Heat and serve hot.

Pot Roast with Vegetables: Brown a 4 to 5 pound pot roast on all sides; add 1 can condensed tomato soup. Cover; cook over low heat 2 hours. Add vegetables as desired; carrots, potatoes, turnips, etc. Season. Cook, covered, until vegetables are done—about 1 hour. Thicken gravy with mixture of 1/4 cup water blended with 2 to 4 tablespoons flour. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

HOT CHEESE 'N TOAST DIP
In saucepan, blend 1 can condensed Cheddar cheese soup, 2 tablespoons ketchup, 1/4 teaspoon oregano, 1 small clove garlic, minced. Heat, stirring often. To serve, let each one spear toast squares with fork dunk into hot cheese. Makes 1 1/2 cups sauce.

A Unique Dinner For Two Couples

Here's a unique dinner for two couples.

Broiled Steak
French Fried Potatoes
Lemon Broccoli Salad Bowl
Topsy Meringue Souffle with Custard Sauce
TIPSY MERINGUE SOUFFLE
1/4 cup golden raisins, haved
1/4 cup chopped (medium fine) pecans
2 tablespoons each sweet sherry and white rum
3 large egg whites
1/2 cup sugar

In a small container mix together the raisins, pecans, sherry and rum; cover tightly and allow to stand at room temperature overnight. Beat the egg whites until they begin to hold peaks; gradually beat in sugar; continue to beat, if necessary, until very stiff and glossy. Gradually fold in the raisin-pecan mixture including any liquid not absorbed. Turn into a buttered 1-quart round casserole (6 1/2 by 2 1/2 inches); set in a pan of hot water so water comes halfway up side of casserole. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until puffed above baking dish and top is brown — 35 to 40 minutes. Serve at once with a custard sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Entertainment and Dining

by LLOYD JOHNSON

Villa Lounge Features George Cerruti Trio

CURRENTLY TOPPING the Tuesday through Saturday entertainment bill at the VILLA LOUNGE is the GEORGE CERRUTI TRIO, whose musical talents have set a swinging pace on television as well as in many leading Bay Area nightclubs. Breakfast, luncheon and dinner patrons may enjoy an excellent menu in the VILLA COFFEE HOUSE, which affords kitchen service 24 hours a day. . . . There have been countless food raves on the Italian and sea food dishes served at VINCE'S restaurant, but don't overlook the fact that CHEF "BIG NICK" can make a hamburger on French bread taste like a filet steak. Give it a try on your next quick-snack visit to Vince's. . . . The 4 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. (Monday through Friday) cocktail hour in the KING'S BOWL BLUE PEACOCK ROOM has caught on in a big way. Drinks are just 50 cents. Dinner-dancing Friday and Saturday from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.; no cover or minimum charge.

George Cerruti

THE GARY LONG TRIO is in its second straight year at Fred and Jerry Rapp's posh Holiday Inn in South San Francisco. The highly entertaining group provides the perfect background music for dinner-dancing in the Inn's elegant Royal Hall dining room every Friday and Saturday night starting at 8 p.m. Don't forget the pianobar entertainment in the Lancer Lounge during the week nights. . . . If you don't see your favorite dish on the luncheon or dinner menu at L-A-Berge, the elegant French bistro near Atherton, don't let it disturb you. The sophisticated crowd has discovered many delicacies are available, though unlisted. They include veal prepared a dozen savory ways, such as Maria Louisa, Osca, Brusco, Bolognaise, Parmigiana, Wiener Schnitzel, Holstein and Saltimbocca. Chef George Bollage, a graduate of Swiss hotel schools, will prepare anything, except maybe hotdogs. . . .

THE GREATEST NAMES in the entertainment industry appear regularly on the marquee at LUZ GARCIA'S SINALOA nitespot in San Francisco. Trademarks of this week's new show include the eye-appealing beauty of curvy dancer ANITA VASQUEZ, who comes to the Sinaloa after six years of successful engagements in Miami, Fla., and handsome singer RAUL LARA, who hails from Mexico. LOS ROQUET, RAQUEL FLORES, OLGA and JUAN, and GINA round out the highly entertaining show which is presented nightly, except Sunday, at 8:30 p.m., 10:30 p.m. and 12 midnight. . . . 500 SAFEWAY employees in the East Bay literally "had a ball" at a dinner-dance held in the Churchill's Room at HOTEL CLAREMONT, Berkeley. . . . The EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY of the U.S. honored their New Jersey manager, SAUL ZAUSMER, and his wife on their thirtieth wedding anniversary at a dinner-party held in the VIP Room at PHIL LEHR'S STEAKERY.

NAT "THE CAT" CONTI's splendid musical group at EL RANCHO PALO ALTO is now an "all-singing" combo. LARRY THOMAS, on drums, and JOE KISTNER, on vibes, have joined the incomparable Nat on vocals during the popular dance sessions which begin at 5 p.m. daily. The swinging group, which plays everything from rock 'n' roll to pops and Latin rhythms, is currently being recorded live for an up-coming album. El Rancho has been aptly tabbed the place for "people who like to meet people." An excellent steakhouse adjoins the dance and lounge area. DIXIE is one of the pretty cocktail cuties. . . . RENE CANABOU is one of the main reasons the COTE D'AZUR is enjoying the success it is today. The likeable French chef is a genius when it comes to the culinary arts. And I'm sure you will agree once you've tasted any of his superb French dishes. . . . SANDI SINCLAIR of the GALAXIE's topless dancers is called "Queen of the Natural Topless" on Broadway. No Silicone for Sandi, it's all her!

RUDOLFO'S IN PALO ALTO, owned by the five fun-lovin' Alfinio brothers (Harry, Art, George, Rudy and Al), is featuring as a regular Friday Lenten Special a superb dish known as Saute Calami. You're in for a treat if you have never tried it. When you do try it, have yourself a Coffee Anisette for an after-dinner drink. . . . In addition to the Topless Swimmer of ravishing redhead, Sandi, you enjoy a full spectrum of variety entertainment in the sparkling revue now at the Cameo Club in Palo Alto. Star of the extravaganza, produced by talent boss Cas Boxley, is Kenny Burt, banjo buffoon extraordinary. Charles Boyer, who delivers romantic ballads, tosses rollicking comedy lines and plays trumpet solos, is one of the brightest young talents in the area. A couple of lovelies with figures straight from Playboy Magazine are Judy Roe, a peeler revealer, and Helena, a voluptuous belly dancer. One of the show's highpoints is when Helena invites a gentleman on stage to play the role of sultan. The five-act, 90-minute show is the zaniest and most exciting yet.

Comedy Team Headlines At Harrah's Reno

The comedy team of Gaylord and Holiday, always a popular attraction at Harrah's Reno Show Lounge, are once again proving a tremendous hit at Harrah's Reno. They appear through March 23. . . . Also on the current Reno program are The Cat Ups, The Brothers Kim, and the Marv Dennis IV. Western star Jimmy Wakely opens Thursday. . . . Comedian Bill Cosby opened his first headline appearance at Harrah's Tahoe, last Thursday night, and was a spectacular hit in the South Shore Room. Appearing with Cosby are songstress Jennie Smith, the Moreland Dancers, and Leighton Noble and his orchestra. Appearing in the Stateline Lounge are Earl Grant, The Four Preps, the Maori Hi-Five, and The Tunetimers.

Comfortable and inviting, Dine's of San Mateo is a dining house that caters to gourmet palates. Open seven days a week, Continental dishes are a specialty. Prices are reasonable as you'll find anywhere.

Eddie Pisani, Third Avenue parking lot tycoon, was discouraged last Thursday. He was going to buy some cold tablets at the drug store, but the clerk had a worse cold than he.

The wild choreography of Miss Keiko's "Dance of the Serpent" in the Chi Chi's "Topless Plus" revue was done by Keiko herself. In her native Japan she was a leading ballerina.

King's Table Chef

Ed and Betty Coffman of King's Table, the popular "All you can eat for $1" restaurant in Redwood City, are happy to announce the appointment of well-known chef Andrew Pierides, who hails from Montreal, Canada, is Greek and speaks English with a French accent. Managed by the very personable and affable Carlo Fasolo, the King's Table is open seven days a week for luncheon and dinner.

What's this I hear?: Bob O'Neil, the demon collector of bad debts, is planning a St. Patrick's Day dinner at the J and G restaurant, with an Italian spread on the food agenda, instead of corned beef and cabbage.

Doran's Cuisine

Rates Raves Of Satisfaction

Take a tip from Ray Stearn and his wife, who, along with Mr. and Mrs. Obbie Russo, and Hart Shadrick and his lady, dined at the new Doran's restaurant in Belmont, last weekend: Feast on the house specialty here—prime rib. Ray Stearn, the health expert, flexed his muscles and ordered seconds. And that, dear readers, is a man sized job in Doran's.

Give your vocal cords a little work out and join the nightly sing-a-long crowds at the Burlingame Rally Lounge. Patti and Al tend to the musical background.

Geroge Mardikian, owner-host of the San Francisco Omar Khayyam's restaurant, is also an outstanding chef. One of his finest recipes (not in the cooking line) is one for "success": "Have faith in yourself, faith in God, faith in America, and back it up with hard work."

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Leviton celebrated their 37th wedding anniversary at a dinner party held at Lew Lehr's in San Francisco's Marina.

THERESA URBAN
Scotty Campbell's, Redwood City

This name had to pop up on the Peninsula sooner or later: So welcome the Bat Cave Club to Third Avenue (in the heart of San Mateo) the next time you're "flying" around town. Entertainment Friday and Saturdays to name combos. Jim Scott and Bob Pemberton are the owners of this "name of the month" club.

Antiques A-Plenty At Scotty Campbell's

If you happen to be a collector of antiques (and who isn't?), on your next visit to Scotty Campbell's steak and prime rib-ery, one of the "prime" stops on Redwood City's restaurant row, have Theresa or Mary Lou take you on an inspection tour—displaced are many rare pieces ranging from a King Arthur Knight's armor to one of Lillian Russell's bird cages.

Taste tip of the week at Plateau 7 in San Jose: A Caesar Salad followed by a Plateau 7 Turf and Surf Combination (petite filet mignon steak with baby lobster tail) and topped off with Andre's Cherries Jubilee for dessert. Who could ask for anything more!

Snow Trip Signups Set

Signups continue for the March 26 Snow Trip, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department's six junior teen clubs.

Buses will leave the War Memorial Community Center and Westmoor Park Clubhouse at 5:30 a.m. for the all-day event at the Pinecrest Resort in the Sierras.

Cost to each club member is $7, which includes chartered bus transportation, insurance and dinner. Guests will be charged $8.

Westmoor Students Receive Bank of America Honors

Fourteen Westmoor High seniors have been chosen by faculty members to receive Bank of America achievement awards in specific fields.

Robert D. Brodie, R. Michael Shackelford, Sue C. Irby, and Bruce E. Herald who are the trophy winners will compete for cash awards ranging up to $1,000.

Recipient of the trophy in the science and mathematics field was Brodie of 43 Santa Elena Avenue, Daly City.

A member of Westmoor's science and math clubs and a life member of the California Scholarship Federation, he plans to attend the Coast Guard Academy.

Also a life member of C.S.F. is Shackelford, trophy winner in the fine arts division. He won a 1965 summer working scholarship in agricultural science at U.C. at Davis and plans to return to Davis and major in chemistry.

Sue Irby of 936 Wildwood Avenue, Daly City, will be awarded the trophy for outstanding achievement in liberal arts. She was the recipient of a scholarship last summer to the San Francisco State High School Drama workshop where she received the "Best Acting Award."

Vocational arts trophy winner Bruce Herald of 98 Northgate Avenue, Daly City, hopes to enter the teaching field. An outstanding trackman, he is a

THEFT REPORTED

Marlene Leon of 140 First Avenue, Daly City, reported to police this week that thieves had stolen 10 long-playing records and five books of premium stamps.

Advertising Code Accepted By National Organizations

The "Advertising Code of American Business" has been endorsed and approved by 55 national organizations, it was announced by the Joint Committee for Advertising Improvement.

Endorsing groups represent more than 300,000 individual and corporate members including most of the nation's leading advertising organizations.

The Code was originally developed in 1964 by the Advertising Federation of America, the Advertising Association of the West and the Association of Better Business Bureaus International.

While many standards have been developed by individual segments of the advertising industry, this is the first national code. Its provisions are applicable to all types of advertisers—local and national—in all forms of media.

Broad support for the Code has been generated by the increasing interest of the advertising industry assuming responsibility for self-regulation.

On the local level, advertising clubs and Better Business Bureaus in more than 100 major cities and market areas have accepted the function of promoting provisions of the Code. BBBs alone are supported by 100,000 companies in all lines of enterprise.

Leading business executives appear to represent a distillation of the principles of truthful advertising as presented in the Advertising Advisory Committee's 1964 report to the Secretary of Commerce, "Self-Regulation in Advertising."

The Advertising Federation of America, the Advertising Association of the West and the Association of Better Business Bureau International, are to be commended for their joint authorship of the Code.

Paul Rand Dixon, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, said, "I find the 'Advertising Code of American Business' a worthy one. I think that the Code reflects the practice of the great majority of American businesses today."

The Joint Committee will continue to encourage uncommitted national associations to adopt and support the Code.

Locally intensive shoppings by the San Mateo County Bureau indicate the great majority of advertisers adhere to this Code. Of 200 advertisements shopped during January and February, 1966, only six firms were requested to modify their advertising.

Coast Artist In Exhibition

Featured at the South San Francisco Library, are the paintings of 78-year-old Half Moon Bay resident Galen Wolf.

Wolf, a life-long resident of the Bay Area, was introduced to painting at the turn of the century by a San Francisco sculptress, Gertrude Boyle.

Into Miss Boyle's studio came such famous people as Theodore Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson, John Muir and Jack London.

Wolf became acquainted with a Scotch painter, William Keith. They both were intensely interested in outdoors, and spent much time hiking in the Sierras.

Wolf has always been intensely interested in recording the landscape and life of the county hills and coast.

Included in the exhibit is "Skyline Farm," an Italian farm such as existed before the population explosion on Skyline Boulevard.

Another illustrates "sprout pickers" at work, a typical work scene in the Half Moon Bay area today, and Pacifica before the homes moved into Linda Mar area.

While a commercial fisherman, Wolf sketched and painted some scenes of the coastline and of the water.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
1. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, will receive sealed bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation and services required for the

ADDITIONS TO THE SAN MATEO COUNTY HEALTH AND WELFARE BUILDING, 225 W. 37th AVENUE, SAN MATEO, CALIFORNIA

2. Each bid shall be in accordance with drawings, specifications and contract documents prepared therefor now on file with the Purchasing Agent, County of San Mateo, Courthouse, Redwood City, California.

3. Drawings, specifications and contract documents may be examined and copies obtained at the Office of the County Purchasing Agent, Redwood City, California, upon deposit of $25.00 for said documents, which deposits will be forfeited if the Contractor fails to return the drawings and specifications in good condition within ten (10) days of the bid opening date.

4. A complete set of drawings, specifications and contract documents may be examined at the Office of the San Mateo County Director of Building Construction, County Office Building, Redwood City, California.

5. Bidders are responsible to see that they obtain a complete set of plans, specifications and contract documents covering the work upon which they submit a bid.

6. Bids shall be submitted upon proposal forms furnished and outd. in the specifications and in accordance with regulations, as set forth in the General Conditions, and shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond for 10% of the amount of the bid as noted in said General Conditions.

7. Bids shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo at the Hall of Justice and Records, Redwood City, California, on or before the 8th day of APRIL, 1966, at 2:30 P.M. and will be opened in public in the Chambers of said Board of Supervisors at or about 2:30 P.M. of that day in said Hall of Justice and Records.

8. The Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, reserves the right to reject any and all bids, alternate bids, or unit prices, and/or waive any irregularities in any bid received, when it is deemed in the public interest to do so.

9. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty days after the date set for the opening thereof.

10. Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California, or local law thereto applicable, the Board of Supervisors has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which this work is being performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute this contract which will be awarded the successful bidder.

11. It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor, and upon any subcontractors under him, to pay not less than the said specific rates to all laborers, workmen or mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

12. The prevailing rates so determined are as follows and are based on an eight hour day, forty hour week, except as otherwise noted. Existing agreements between the Building Trades and the Construction Industry groups relative to overtime, holidays and other special provisions shall be recognized.

LOCAL LABOR:
13. It is the policy of the Owner that contractors on public projects employ their workers and craftsmen from the local labor market whenever possible. Consistent with that policy, the Contractor is requested to employ his craftsmen and other workers from the local labor market whenever possible to do so. "Local Labor Market" within the meaning of this section is defined as the labor market within the geographical confines of the County of San Mateo, State of California.

WAGE RATES:
14. The Board of Supervisors has determined the rate of prevailing wages in the locality in which the work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to perform the contract. Said prevailing rates are set forth below:

RAFT	PER HOUR
Carpenters	$4.575
Cement Finishers	4.680
Electrical Workers	4.800
Floormen (Asphalt Tile & Linoleum)	5.000

DORMEYER

DORMEY

Portable Mixer

Special

$9.77

your very best buy.

- 8 full power speeds, for folding, stirring, mixing, beating, whipping.
- Rests on its heels for draining.

- Goes everywhere. Use it at the table, the counter top, or at the range.
- Ejects beaters at a touch.

You'll wonder how Dormeyer ever got so much quality, so much versatility into such a compact appliance. Certain to make a welcome addition to any kitchen with its ready-for-action availability... its smart styling and color.

And now you can have Dormeyer in lovely colors to enhance the beauty of your kitchen. Choose from White, Pink, Yellow, Turquoise or Sandalwood.
